Dulles Says Formosa Situation Poses Grave Threat

GOV. FAUBUS APPEARS ON TV PROGRAM

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas said today there are many precedents for government assistance to private schools, such as have been proposed in Arkansas to circumvent integration.

He cited federal grants to education for lunch programs and other assistance.

"If the federal government can do this, how can they prevent a state from doing it?" he asked during an interview on the NBC-TV "Today" program from New York.

Faubus was in Little Rock and interviewed there.

"There are thousands of private schools existing throughout the nation," he added. "Their right has never yet been denied by any court in the land."

If such a plan were put into effect in Arkansas, he was asked, did he not expect it to be contested in federal court by the federal government, private citizens or the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People?

"Perhaps," Faubus replied. "Any citizen has the right to take any matter into federal court if qualified to do so."

Little Rock citizens will vote Sept. 27 on the question of whether high schools will be integrated. Faubus was asked what would happen if voters turned down integration.

"We will need to find some means or method of opening schools under some plan or other," he replied. "We can't afford to leave the students without a year of school."

He said that if the will of the people was for integration, he would abide by the decision.

He expressed belief the great majority of Arkansas people was against integration.

Reminded that the U.S. Supreme Court had ordered integration to proceed, Faubus quoted Abraham Lincoln as saying that the people themselves are masters of both the courts and Congress.

He said he thought sentiment throughout the nation was with the state on the question of state versus federal rights.

Private Corporation Plans To Take Over High Schools

By ROBERT E. FORD
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Officers of a private corporation established to take over Little Rock's closed high schools planned an organizational meeting today amid predictions from Negro leaders that the plan cannot stop integration.

Mrs. Gordon P. Oates, one organizer of the newly incorporated Little Rock Private School Corp., said the schools will be segregated if the firm operates them.

Summing Up Is Under Way in Conspiracy Trial

HARRISBURG (AP)—The conspiracy trial of a former Chester County highway official neared an end today with a Dauphin County jury ready to hear final instructions from Judge Homer L. Kreider.

Defense and prosecution attorneys summed up their cases for the jury in the case of Frank S. Jamieson, onetime Chester County highway superintendent, to end the six-day trial.

Jamieson is accused of conspiring with Victor Prep, Frackville contractor, to defraud the department in cinder sales for use in Chester County.

Prep pleaded guilty to conspiracy and false pretenses charges and took the stand during the trial.

Jamieson's attorney, John H. Bream, told the court that Prep failed to testify against his client because "they were not linked hand in hand in this alleged conspiracy."

Prep testified as a rebuttal witness, his remarks were confined to a discussion he and Jamieson had at Prep's home in 1956.

Prep failed to give any specific outline of his discussion with Jamieson.

Owner of Rhode Island Stand Has Patron of Note

LITTLE COMPTON, R.I. (AP)—Mrs. Edward M. Medeiros, 26, was knitting when the man stepped over to her fruit and vegetable stand and began looking at the pumpkins. It was about 5:30 p.m.

"How much are these?" the man asked, holding up a pumpkin. "Fifteen cents apiece."

"How many will it take to make a pumpkin pie?"

"That depends on how big a pie you want," said the matter of fact Mrs. Medeiros.

The man and a group crowding around him laughed at her remark.

"What's so funny?" Mrs. Medeiros asked one of the men.

"That's the President," was the reply.

Gulf Finds Difficult Oil Import Program

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Gulf Oil Corp. says it will be forced to re-evaluate its earlier decision to comply with a proposed voluntary oil import program unless substantial modification is made.

The firm claims the program "arbitrarily provides for quotas to all refiners, some of whom have neither the intention nor facilities suitable to refine import crudes."

Such a method of allocation "amounts to a subsidy to these refiners," Gulf said.

The company added that it is unqualifiedly opposed to the new system of allocating imports as recently proposed by M. V. Carson Jr., administrator of the Voluntary Oil Import Program.

Poignant Tale of Tragedy Behind Jersey Train Wreck

RUMSON, N.J. (AP)—The home at 13 Saller's Way was like most other suburban homes. Mr. and Mrs. James Adams lived there with their four sons.

Then, last week, Mrs. Adams entered Monmouth Memorial Hospital.

Her husband, editor-manager of the New York Purchasing Review, would catch a train so that he could be in his office by 9 a.m.

The youngest child, Peter, 18 months, would be left in the care of a baby sitter. The others, James Jr., 15; Steven, 11; and Kurt, 8, would go off to school.

But on Monday, Adams was delayed in getting a baby sitter. He left a little later than usual, taking a later train to New York.

Wednesday his briefcase was found aboard the third coach of a Jersey Central Railroad train that plunged into Newark Bay Monday.

His station wagon was traced, and the name of James Adams, 45, was added to the list of those missing and presumed dead in the train wreck.

Mrs. Adams died in the hospital Wednesday night of cancer.

Today, there are four orphans in the suburban home at 13 Saller's Way.

Union Pact With Ford Is Expected To Set Pattern For Entire Auto Industry

BULLETIN
DETROIT (AP)—Thousands of United Auto Workers Union workers remained on strike at the Ford Motor Co. today despite Wednesday's agreement on a new contract. Local grievances, generally over seniority and job classifications, were blamed for walkouts that hampered a return to production in many of Ford's 86 plants across the country. Early estimates placed the number of idle at more than 15,000. Some 98,000 had walked out Wednesday at a 10 a. m. strike deadline. The contract settlement was announced six hours later. UAW President Walter Reuther said the union would try to get workers back on the job. He said local problems would delay return to some plants.

By CHARLES C. CAIN
DETROIT (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. looked hopefully forward today to a period of labor peace on a new three-year agreement with the United Auto Workers Union. The pact is expected to set a pattern for the entire auto industry.

Ford and the UAW announced a settlement of their differences Wednesday several hours after some 98,000 workers walked off their jobs in Ford plants across the nation. The strike remained in effect at some plants, pending agreement on local problems.

With the Ford contract tucked in his pocket, UAW President Walter Reuther said he will now turn his attention to General Motors and Chrysler. He undoubtedly will ask for similar contract gains from the two firms.

Terms of the Ford pact, which must still be ratified and approved by UAW locals, bring an approximate 10 cent hourly pay boost for all workers, plus extra fringe benefits. The new average hourly rate is estimated at about $2.52.

Reuther indicated he was optimistic over the chances of a settlement with the other two members of the industry's big three, but he made it clear the union would not hesitate to set a strike deadline if such action becomes necessary.

Talks at GM and Chrysler resume today.

A note of optimism came also from GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton, who commented on the Ford settlement:

"I would like to congratulate both parties for arriving at an accord. I know it took a lot of hard work. I see no reason why with hard work and sincerity of purpose around the bargaining table that at GM, too, our people cannot look forward to a long period of labor peace and stability."

John Bugas, Ford vice president who directed negotiations for the company, said he believed GM "will be delighted" with the settlement, and added:

"It is a solid contract. Our settlement with the UAW is not an excessive package."

In the package were included an eight cent basic hourly wage increase for some skilled workers, separation pay of up to $3,000, increased retirement benefits, improvements in hospitalization, surgical and group insurance coverage, provisions for night shift differential, Saturday overtime and jury duty pay.

Bugas said it was up to the Ford board to decide whether the settlement would be reflected in higher car prices.

The settlement came after 30 hours of around the clock bargaining and after 93 days of contract talks between the UAW and the big three.

Virginia Schools Threatened With General Closure

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The closure of public schools under Virginia's massive resistance laws threatened Norfolk today as a federal judge prepared to rule on a motion that would allow the school board to assign 17 Negroes to white schools.

If the Negroes are assigned, six schools with an enrollment of some 10,000 pupils, apparently will not open as scheduled Monday.

One school—Warren County High at Front Royal, with an enrollment of about 1,000—already has been closed under the state's anti-segregation laws. Lane High and Venable Elementary in Charlottesville, with a combined enrollment of 1,700, also face the threat of state closure Monday.

The Norfolk school board, under a federal desegregation order for 18 months, told Federal Dist. Judge Walter E. Hoffman in August it was prepared to assign the 17 Negroes to the six white schools. An injunction granted by two justices of the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals barred the board from assigning any pupils—white or Negro—to schools.

Third Man Sought in Jury "Baiting" Inquiry

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Allegheny County district attorney's office is seeking an unknown third man it claims is involved in an alleged attempt to influence a juror in a recent bribery trial.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Samuel Strauss made the disclosure Wednesday at a hearing for Thomas Nelis and Joseph Volpe on charges they offered a woman juror $300 for an acquittal verdict in favor of Henry Katz and Chester Stupak.

Strauss said the third man accompanied Volpe when Volpe allegedly approached Nelis to offer the money to Mrs. Margaret Maurer, Nelis' cousin.

Nelis and Volpe waived the hearing and were bound over to a grand jury under $10,000 bond each. Strauss promised to have the bond reduced if the defendants disclosed identity of the third man.

Diplomats Keep Tight-Lipped on Warsaw Meetings

By STANLEY JOHNSON
WARSAW, Poland (AP)—U.S. and Chinese Communist ambassadors met for two hours today to continue probing their countries' plans in the Formosa Strait situation.

The two diplomats left their conference as tight-lipped as they had arrived, but the unusual length of their first two sessions created the impression the negotiators were getting down to brass tacks. They plan to meet again Sunday.

Shortly before U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Wang Ping-nan, the Red Chinese ambassador, conferred for the second time on easing Far East tension, Peiping radio broadcast a refusal to agree to a cease-fire in the offshore islands as long as the talks go on.

"There is no question of a cease-fire since China and the United States are not at war," said an article in the official Peiping Peoples Daily broadcast by the Communist radio.

Referring to President Eisenhower's speech urging a peaceful settlement in the area, the article accused Washington of trying to lay down a "cease-fire snare" to lure Peiping into tacit acceptance of American "occupation" of Formosa.

Millions Enlisting in China Military Units

TOKYO (AP)—The "everyone a soldier" movement is spreading throughout Communist China "as the people get more and more angry over U.S. provocations," Peiping radio reports.

Communist Chinese broadcasts say millions have enlisted in militia units to beat back an invasion. Whipping up the "hate America" campaign, the radio emphasizes that Red China may be invaded at any minute.

SECRETARY OF STATE IN MAJOR POLICY ADDRESS CALLS FOR CEASE-FIRE

By MAX HARELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles declared today the Chinese Communist campaign against Formosa poses a grave threat, with ominous implications. He called for a prompt cease-fire.

Dulles made his comment in a major policy address before the U. N. General Assembly as that 81-nation body opened general debate in its 13th regular session.

He expressed hope the talks now in progress in Warsaw between U. S. and Chinese Communist ambassadors would end the current crisis, but reserved the right to bring the problem to the U. N. if the talks appeared headed for failure.

Dulles charged that the Chinese Communist regime is now attempting to extend its authority to the offshore islands by the use of naked force.

"The issue is thus a simple one: Armed conquest," he said.

He said the current actions of the Peiping government demonstrate again that Red China is not "peace-loving"—a phrase used in the U. N. charter in defining requirements for membership in the world organization.

Dulles spoke a few hours before the Assembly's Steering Committee was to consider whether the U. N. should debate the question of seating Red China. The committee was expected to reject an Indian proposal for such a debate.

"We seek a prompt cease-fire and equitable conditions which will eliminate provocations and leave for peaceful resolution the different claims and counter-claims that are involved," Dulles said of the Warsaw talks.

"If it seems that the bilateral talks between ambassadors are not going to succeed, the United States reserves the right to bring this matter to the United Nations."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko was expected to speak at the Assembly's afternoon session.

On other world problems Dulles made these points:

—Hungary and Germany—The United Nations cannot let itself be discouraged by the refusal of the Soviet Union to end the "brutal suppression of the Hungarian people" and by its refusal to help reunify Germany.

Middle East—The United States is somewhat, but not wholly, reassured by the recent course of events in the Middle East. It is going ahead, however, with the withdrawal of another contingent of U.S. forces from Lebanon. Further, the United States will discuss with the new government of President-elect Fuad Chehab a specific schedule for early withdrawal of other U.S. forces as soon as Chehab takes office next week.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist air force headquarters claimed its Sabrejets shot down five Communist MIG17s and possibly a sixth in air battles over Quemoy today. A communiqué said all Nationalist planes returned to base safely.

The communiqué reported two aerial engagements in the late afternoon in which four Sabrejets took part against more than 30 MIGs. The Sabrejets were providing cover for Nationalist supply convoys when they became locked in the dog fighting.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist Sabre Jets fought a battle with Communist Chinese MIGs and attacked Red torpedo boats today in the Quemoy area, the Nationalist Defense Ministry announced.

Man's First Trip Into Space Is Put Off Indefinitely

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Man's first space journey has been indefinitely postponed. Too much radiation.

So says Dr. Albert R. Hibbs, chief of research analysis at Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory. A band of radiation surrounding the earth is much more intense than was believed, he reported Tuesday.

Dr. Hibbs, back from the International Astronautical Federation convention in Amsterdam, said the intensity was disclosed by the U.S. satellites Explorers I and II and reported in detail by Explorer IV.

He told a California Disaster Office meeting: "Until we can set the boundaries for this radiation field, we cannot even estimate the amount of protective shielding which will be required to enable a man to travel safely through this extremely hostile environment."

Blaw-Knox Is Seeking $128,000 From U. A. W.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A suit by Blaw-Knox Co. seeking $128,000 in damages against the United Steelworkers for a strike is on file in U. S. District Court.

Blaw-Knox claims it has lost $128,000 through Wednesday as a result of USW pickets closing its Wheeling, W. Va., works on Sept. 5. The firm says the strike violates its contract with the union. The company said it wants $16,000 a day additional damages as long as the strike continues. The dispute involves wage negotiations for pattern makers, who are USW members.

Community Chest Reveals Quotas to Member Agencies

The Warren Community Chest, Inc. today announced the amounts allocated to its ten member agencies for the coming year. The total sum is $83,210 which will be the goal for this fall's Chest Campaign from October 13 to 20. The Chest agencies and the appropriation for each is as follows:

Map Plans for Coordinating Services During Emergencies

Officials of the Civil Defense, the Red Cross and the Salvation Army this week concluded arrangements on how each agency would act in a Warren County emergency. Such a plan was designed to prevent duplicating services in the event of a disaster here.

In minor disasters such as fires the Salvation Army will provide the necessary refreshments for fire fighters and rescue workers. If the Salvation Army official in charge at the site finds it necessary, he may call on Civil Defense for help.

In cases of major disaster, such as a flood, Civil Defense will activate immediately such shelter facilities as needed, the number and location to be determined in collaboration with a designated official of the Red Cross and the Salvation Army. Food for the first meal will be provided by CD volunteers and the Salvation Army. When more food and equipment is required at an activated shelter Red Cross will be expected to supply them.

"At such time," the plan reads, a "Red Cross official or designated worker will be assigned to coordinate Red Cross activities and responsibilities at the location with those of Civil Defense. When Red Cross thus becomes cooperatively responsible for the conduct of a shelter it shall be identified by the organization insignia. Nothing in this agreement is to be construed as limiting either the Salvation Army or the Red Cross in the normal conduct of their traditional function in Disaster Service."

Red Cross officials will be responsible for food bills and equipment supplied under their established procedure.

If an emergency should require the listing of evacuated persons, Civil Defense will be in charge of the registration. The State Armory has been named the registration center. Red Cross workers will record such information as they may require from the Civil Defense records, cooperating with CD in the conduct of the Center.

The plan ended with this statement: "It is recognized that the Salvation Army is a basically religious organization and is not to be restricted or limited in the normal performance of a religious counselling service and ministry to disaster victims if asked to do so, or if the opportunity otherwise arises."

The conference followed a request from national Red Cross headquarters and the State Council of Civil Defense. Local and county leaders in CD and Red Cross were urged to map out their plans of working together in a disaster.

Copies of the complete agreement will be mailed shortly to the offices of Civil Defense, Red Cross and Salvation Army. Additional copies will be available if requested.

TODAY is pay day for all who have classified ads.

Evidence in Grand Jury Probe Will Not Be Revealed

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Any evidence turned up by a federal grand jury probe next month into alleged payoffs to Pittsburgh police for racket protection will be kept secret for awhile.

U. S. Atty. Hubert I. Teitelbaum said Wednesday the October panel will be an "investigative" body whose purpose it will be to probe and ask questions. However, he did not rule out the possibility the panel would return some indictments.

Said Teitelbaum: "Whatever the jury turns up will be kept a secret until such time as an indicting body can act on it. The testimony it hears will not be turned over to anybody but another grand jury."

Teitelbaum ordered the probe Tuesday saying he had "reliable information that high officials in the Pittsburgh police department have been taking payoffs for a long time."

Employment Gain Is Reported by Service Office

A slight gain in employment was registered during the past 60 days according to information received from Andrew J. Donick, manager of the local Pennsylvania State Employment Service office. The margin of advance for the 49 concerns was 89 or 1.2 per cent. While the increase is not large, its importance lies in the fact that this marked the first in the calendar year. There was little change indicated by factories, at the same time totals for contractors, retail and wholesale trade, and miscellaneous groups were up. Practically all of those recently added to payrolls were women.

The current level of the firms surveyed, of course, lags somewhat behind both 1956 and 1957—361 and 428, respectively.

Donick stated that there were 703 persons receiving unemployment benefits (regular and temporary) during the last week in August. The figures for a year and two years ago are 189 and 211, respectively.

Claims data and employer forecasts point to some further improvement in business during the next 60 days. No one expects anything spectacular, just a gradual rise. After mid-November, seasonal factors will affect the job trend adversely.

Plans Launched for Warren B-E Day Observance Oct. 14

Nearly 300 educators and businessmen of Warren County will participate in B-E Day (Business-Education Day) on Tuesday, October 14, according to plans made yesterday afternoon at a meeting of committee workers. B-E Day is a project of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Warren Education Association.

Representatives of 21 local industrial and business concerns which are the host firms for the event met yesterday to receive instructions for the day's activities and to exchange ideas for making the program worthwhile for all involved.

Every teacher in Warren County is invited to take part in B-E Day which will start at 2 p. m. with an assembly at Beatty School and climax with a banquet in Beatty cafeteria that evening. The afternoon will be spent at the plants for tours and discussions of how business operates in our community. The teachers will be guests of the host firms at the evening dinner and a leading business executive will be the final speaker.

At the planning session yesterday were the following: John Wendell, United Refining Co. official and chairman of the Chamber's Education Committee; W. R. Walker, Chamber President; Dr. Carl Whipple, Superintendent of Schools; M. G. Keller, School Board president and member of the Chamber committee; David Olson, Jefferson Street School principal representing the Education Association; John Mallory, County Superintendent of Schools and the following delegates from host firms:

Merie Kremer, George Konkol and Ed Stahl, Sylvania Electric Products; Ken Holz, Struthers-Wells Corp.; Frank Seceniqua, Penelec; Clayton Bannon, Bell Telephone Co.; Roland Harvey, Pennsylvania Gas Co.; John Haggerty, Warren National Bank; Edward Ryberg, Warren Bank and Trust Co.; John Salamon, Warren Water Co.; Edward Farynowski, Interlectric Corp.; Robert Armstrong, Penna. Sheriff's department presented enough evidence, however, so that the man will be held over until the next Grand Jury. Officers insist he aided Leroy Flasher, 21, of RD 2, Sugar Grove, steal a TV set and antique rifle from the W. W. Hoy home in Sugar Grove.

BLACKTOPPING ENDING

Borough workmen today were prepared, weather pending, to put 300 feet of blacktopping on West Fifth avenue and bring to an end the experiment with an inexpensive type of oil and chip street resurfacing. Borough Manager George Geramos said today that complaints have been many about dust, and children carrying slight excesses of tar into the home. Streets already processed include Crescent, Madison, Buchanan and Jefferson. Previously used was a far more costly pre-mix process of resurfacing.

Number Polio Cases in State Exceed Figure in Past Year

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Health Department reported Monday the number of polio cases in Pennsylvania this year exceeds the number for all of 1957 but emphasized there is no cause for alarm.

Dr. I. F. Gratch, the department's chief epidemiologist, noted that 9 of 10 polio cases reported this year involved persons who did not receive the Salk anti-polio vaccine.

"There's a slight trend upwards in all of the United States," he told a newsman. "We have had 42 reported cases so far this year compared to 41 for all of 1957 and the number may increase to about 50 by the end of the year."

But even 50 cases would be far cry from the 1,942 cases listed for 1952. The cases dropped dramatically to 796 with the first use of anti-polio vaccine in 1955. As more persons were vaccinated, the total fell to 796 in 1955, 231 in 1956 and finally to 41 last year.

POLIO IN STATE

Some 42 cases of polio have been reported in Pennsylvania so far this year, according to the State Health Department. Only one case, a fatal one, has occurred in Erie County. During 1957, there were 41 cases of polio in the state. The slight increase this year is no cause for alarm, the department said. Some 1,942 cases were listed in 1952. With the first use of anti-polio vaccine, the number dropped to 796 in 1955, with 231 in 1956.

JAMESTOWN DOG LAW

Jamestown's first ordinance controlling dogs was approved by city council there Tuesday. And it has "teeth in it," according to Council. The ordinance, which will become effective January 1st, provides for dog licensing, health, and police department operations, dogs running at large, procedure if a dog attacks a person or another animal, disposition of dogs seized under the ordinance and fines for ordinance violations. Any dog seized, if unclaimed by the owner within 72 hours may be killed or sold. The owner of a dog that has attacked a person or another animal is subject to a $25 fine if the animal is allowed to run at large or is not properly muzzled. For violations of other provisions of the ordinance, the dog's owner is subject to a $100 fine or a sentence up to 100 days in jail until the fine is paid.

Having spent most of his life in hospitals with various ailments, Mickey went in again when he recently suffered a fractured left leg. After the traction period, doctors plan to put him in a cast from the waist down for six to eight weeks.

Once Famed Winter Home Of Big Top Desolate Scene

By GENE PLOWDEN
SARASOTA, Fla. AP—Every now and then a proud but confused old peacock pokes his head above the weeds and utters a raucous cry. It sounds like: "Help! Help! Help!"

The cry echoes through silent buildings, paint-peeled railroad cars and deserted kraals on a desolate 200-acre tract about five miles southeast of town.

The buildings, cars kraals and weeds are the remains of what was once the famed winter quarters of the Big Top, the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus.

The Big Top deserted its winter quarters in 1956 when, for economic reasons, it became a compact streamlined show, playing fair grounds and auditoriums, traveling mostly by auto and on the road all but two weeks of the year.

Footsteps echo empty in the office behind the old press car, when John Ringling North signed with a flourish in 1947 the papers that gave him 51 per cent of the circus and put him in command.

On these acres John Ringling proudly laid out his circus' winter quarters more than 30 years ago, bringing the whole enterprise down from Bridgeport, Conn.

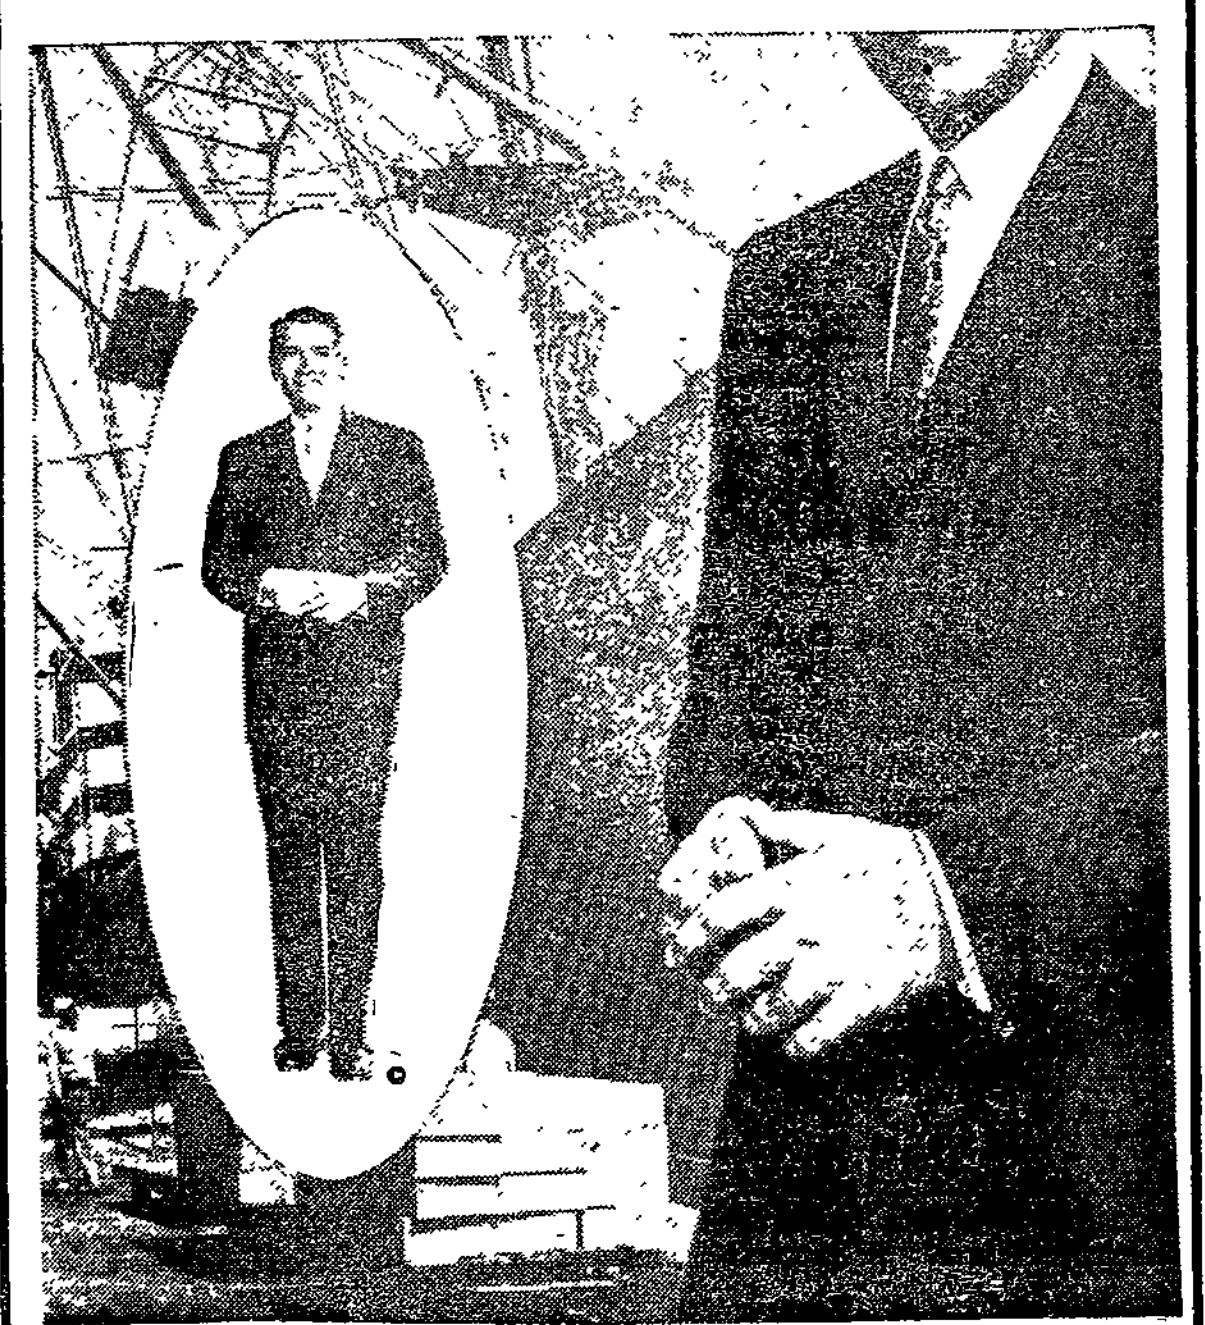

Today's edition of the circus has no trains, tents, menagerie or midway. In fact, the program is more like that offered by the

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Marlene Dietrich, a woman of philosophical mind whom men seldom view philosophically, will launch a weekend radio program Oct. 4 in which she answers listeners' inquiries on life, love and the pursuit of happiness.

Her throaty voice will be heard in a series of four minute time spots on NBC Radio's "Monitor."

"I'll answer only questions I know something about," she said the other day, "and only serious questions. I can summarize everything that I basically say with three words: Do your duty."

Miss Dietrich, who is as beautiful as ever, said that she already has received more than 500 letters from people ranging from teenagers to octogenarians in response to an NBC announcement of her program. A great many are from people who say they are lonely.

"All people are often lonely," she said. "I'm often lonely. What really is so bad about that?"

"In this country too many people try to crawl from the age-old fact that life is hard. They are not to blame because they were brought up to believe that life should be a bed of roses.

"But in Europe people are brought up with the idea that life is hard and so they're better equipped to take it when they face it.

"Many people write and say that something must be wrong with them because they get depressed. I wish they could understand that stupid, cold people are the only ones who never are depressed. I am often depressed. All sensitive people often are, and only the sensitive learn the deeper and more valuable things of life.

"I hope to tell them that depression is a part of life. And you should not try to push life from you." She thrust her hands out quickly and drolly mimicked a neurotic woman—"You should not have that frantic 'I've got to do something about it' attitude, that need to do something or have a drink to escape from where you are."

She smiled suddenly. "We come back, don't we, to the three words? 'Do your duty'—and stop worrying about how you feel."

As a mother and a grandmother, Miss Dietrich is interested in the dilemma of bewildered young mothers who read books offering advice contrary to what they learned from their own mothers.

"They have nobody to talk to," she said. "And that is true of many, many people: They lack someone to talk to. I hope that I can communicate with them."

It seems certain that she will.

DEDUCTION FOR FUND

The payroll deduction plan for United Fund in Meadville was locked around for some 15 minutes Tuesday night at a meeting of Meadville Area

School Board. At first, it looked as if the board was going to defer a vote on the plan until School District employees could be polled. Then it looked as if the board would attach a proviso that a majority of employees would have to request the plan before it could be put into effect. For a while, it looked as if the plan might be dropped entirely. Finally, the board approved the plan essentially as the United Fund of Western Crawford County wanted it.

MECHANICAL EYES IN COURT

From the newspaperman's trade paper "The Publishers' Auxiliary":

The House Delegates of the American Bar Association is meeting in Los Angeles to consider the question of whether the nation's courtrooms should be opened to photographers, radio and television. The group will also consider whether newsmen will be able to use sound recorders and other new devices to aid them in coverage of judicial matters.

As of this writing, the ABA has banned all such devices and the language used by the group in its Canon 35 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics has long been a sore point with newspapermen. The Canon says, in part:

"The taking of photographs in the courtroom, during sessions of the court or recesses between sessions, and the broadcasting or televising of the court proceedings are calculated to detract from the essential dignity of the proceedings, distract the witness in giving his testimony, detract the court, and create misconceptions with respect thereto in the mind of the public and should not be permitted."

Entrepreneurs of the new picture, radio and television industries have been quick to attack Canon 35 as a block to public trial, a fundamental American constitutional right. Lawyers have been quick to point out that for the most part, a public trial is the right of the defendant to be protected against the possibility of secret trials and convictions and that anything that might harm the defendant's right to a fair trial has no place in our system of courts.

Quite a few lawyers argue that the public's right to know what goes on in its courts is now being served by the accounts written by reporters and that the newer technical devices will involve distractions which would make fair trials difficult. They point to the Sheppard murder trial in Cleveland where the judge found it necessary to stop in-between session photography and the Hall-Mills case where sensational publicity brought about the adoption of Canon 35 in 1937.

However, we feel that the fact the United States Senate permits live television of its committee meetings and television cameras sit in on White House news conferences are indications that the newer communications media are learning to discharge their responsibilities to the public in such a way as not to be distracting to the event involved. We also feel that technical developments will make equipment easier to handle and quieter.

All and all, we can see no valid reason to continue the blanket ban against photography in our courtrooms. Let the ABA ease its Canon 35. Let the cameras come in the courtroom. If they prove to be distracting to the cause of justice we are sure that the nation's news media will not protest if Canon 35 is made active again. But first, let's give the nation's photographers a chance to show how quickly and quietly they can work.

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. marshals don't know whether Matt Dillon, Wyatt Earp and Wild Bill Hickock were ever U.S. marshals—despite all the legends and television programs about them. They may have been town marshals.

In fact, what U.S. marshals don't know about U.S. marshals would fill a bunch of big books.

These officers are in the news now because about 150 marshals and deputies have been sent into Little Rock where, if things get rough, they may go after violators of a federal judge's order to integrate Central High.

But meanwhile, E. J. Matchett, boss of the 804 marshals and deputies in the United States and its territories, has asked them to let him know anything they can find about the history of U.S. marshals.

The reason: there's a terrible gap in their history between 1889 and 1870, and even afterwards. What's happened to the records, if there were records? Matchett says he doesn't know.

He has his office in the Justice Department — where the attorney general has supervision over marshals — and he says: "We've turned this place upside down" in search of records "and we can't find them."

The name "marshal" goes away back in colonial and even British history. But Congress in 1789 created the job of U.S. marshal to work with the 13 federal district courts which were created, one for each state.

Matchett says he has the names of those first 13 marshals appointed by President Washington but no others until 1870 when the government printed a register of marshals. It's been printing this register at intervals ever since.

But even the register has gaps, Matchett says. That's why he's asked marshals around the country to search their local records. The information he'd like to get, he says, would fill big books.

As for people like Earp and Hickock, Matchett says he thinks they were marshals.

The Titusville Herald says the Canadian government placed an "oil industry centennial" stamp on sale Sept. 10 and a handsome thing it is. In a droplet, a kerosene lamp is reproduced, and in another droplet, a futuristic design resembling a refinery unit appears. The colors are red and olive green and the word is "Petroleum 1858-1958 Petrole". All Canadian stamps are worked in both English and French. The Sarnia Observer, daily newspaper publisher near the site of the alleged discovery, heralded the stamp in its Sept. 10 issue under the headline: "Oil Springs Plouts Titusville's Claim."

Lambton is the reputed site of the Canadian discovery well, near the community of Oil Springs. Another account of the celebration appears in the summer issue of "Canadian Oil News," a house organ published by Canadian Oil Companies, Limited, makers of White Rose products. A reading of the two articles discloses the weaknesses of the Canadian claim. Its sponsors — Cannot name the date of the month, nor even the month, in which the Lambton well came in. The best they can do is "1858." Cannot supply a photograph of the first well, or even a sketch. The best they can do is knock together a "replica spring pole drilling rig," which was "made only from the materials available 100 years ago." Cannot produce a single letter, lease, document or map directly supporting the claim for Lambton. Cannot bring forth any report or analysis of the product obtained around Oil Springs to show whether the product was crude oil or an asphaltic substance. Cannot produce any evidence to show that the Lambton well was followed by an influx of producers, refiners or speculators, or that it attracted any interest whatever outside a limited area of Ontario. All in all, the Canadian centennial appears to be an excellently conceived and cleverly executed publicity stunt by the White Rose people.

It has just been called to our attention that Governor George M. Leader has designated the period September 15 to 21 as Instrumentation on the Space Age Week for Pennsylvania, in conjunction with the 13th annual Instrument - Automation Conference and Exhibit of the Instrument Society of America now in session in Philadelphia. In his statement, the Governor said: "We are proud that the Society was born and still maintains its headquarters in Pennsylvania and that it has selected Philadelphia as the site for this important Exhibit. We are now at the threshold of the space age, an age which will demand more and more new ideas and techniques in science and technology. In recognition of this fact, and in honor of this important Conference-Exhibit, I am designating the week of September 15, 1958, as Instrumentation on the Space Age Week for Pennsylvania."

And while we're on the subject of "special occasions," one of our girls in the office who specializes in raising lambs calls attention to the fact that September is Wool Month for Pennsylvania, designated in the following manner by the Commonwealth's executive: "Pennsylvania is proud to be numbered among the states concerned with wool production and manufacturing. OUTWARD TO THE STARS (22)—A Trip to Mars

(1) Just as proposed designs for manned space stations are many and varied, so is the case with interplanetary spacecrafts. Sketched above are four of the many suggested types, all of which could be built in orbit from materials ferried up from Earth.

Design at (a) is termed a minimum interorbital vehicle and makes use of currently available chemical fuels and lightest possible construction. Propellant is carried in pressurized capsules attached to outriggers.

An ion-drive ship, the idea of Dr. Ernest Stuhlinger of the U.S. Army Ballistics Missile Agency, is shown at (b). A nuclear reactor at bottom ionizes cesium atoms, which provide low but continuous thrust to move the ship sidewise through space.

Another, ion-drive, vehicle is this conception at (c).

At (d) is an atomic-powered design, with the reactor contained in smaller "dumbbell" at bottom.

Designs (a), (c) and (d) are proposals of the British Interplanetary Society.

(2) In the briefing room on the space station, the Mars crew studies the path they will follow, the transfer orbit diagrammed on wall chart. Using the minimum amount of fuel, the journey will take no less than 260 days.

In addition, it will involve a waiting period of 450 days in orbit around Mars before Earth and Mars are in the correct position for the return.

In terms of energy required, however, the voyage will be little more difficult than one to the Moon. Once escape velocity from Earth is achieved,

NASA Is Getting Set to Go In Space in a Big Way

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Dr. T. Keith Glennan has arrived in town to take over—not just the biggest job in the United States or the world—but an assignment that covers the moon, sun and stars. He's administrator of the newly-created National Aeronautics and Space Agency—NASA. It's a staggering responsibility.

Item three in the eight-point statement of objectives in the new space act assigns NASA: "The development and operation of vehicles capable of carrying instruments, equipment, supplies and living organisms through space."

To set up the agency to do this, Dr. Glennan, former president of Case Institute of Technology and a former member of the Atomic Energy Commission, has opened offices in the old Cosmos Club building.

In the office next to Dr. Glennan will be his deputy administrator, Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, for the last 11 years director of National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics.

NACA IS BEING TRANSMUTED into NASA, if that's the proper word.

There's no telling how big NASA will become eventually or how much money it will spend. It could be as high as a billion yearly.

The first year's space agency budget is 300 million dollars. This includes 100 millions for carrying on NACA research programs. About half of this work for the past year has been on rocket and missile work for the armed services.

A THREE-PRONGED PROGRAM has been tentatively set up for NASA first-year operations. All three parts are to be carried on at the same time. First is to develop space technology in rockets, motors, instruments and guidance. Second is to put satellites around the earth, moon and planets. Third is to put man into space and bring him back alive.

Administrator Glennan has been reviewing this program in the three weeks since he was sworn into office. As a starter, he says he will grant no interviews, make no speeches and write no articles—until he knows what he's doing.

It is considered likely that NASA will take over and continue the Navy's Vanguard and satellite research program at the end of the International Geophysical Year in December.

There is a possibility that NASA will take over civilian applications of the Army and Air Force lunar probes now being run by Department of Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency under Roy W. Johnson. ARPA authority expires in February, though it could be renewed for military space vehicle development.

NACA HAD AN AUTHORIZED personnel strength of 8,200. NASA will hire an additional 800, initially. Approximately 650 will be assigned to a new 1.5-million-dollar space technology center being built at Beltsville, Md.

The other 150 will be in headquarters here. Their principal function will be in letting contracts with universities and industrial research organizations for development work in fields like electronics, missile guidance and control outside the atmosphere, in which NACA scientists do not have competence.

The new space agency will not be just a research agency such as NACA was. NASA will be an operating agency. It can let contracts for million-pound-thrust rockets and it will actually fire non-military missiles and satellites and space vehicles.

In short, NASA is going to be big business. Its operations in time may rival those of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) —Bankers are learning about S-E-X. At least the bankers in New York State have decided that the band that rocks the economy should be told about the facts of financial and banking life.

The New York State Bankers Assn. has set up a women's committee to tackle the problem of women's understanding of money. Many husbands may think that women already have their own understanding of money — there's never enough of it.

But this isn't the idea the lady bankers have in mind. Rather it's a matter of spreading information about banking and finance. And the committee feels sure that its program quickly will spread to other states.

First, the women bankers will work through the various women's clubs and organizations. There are some 800 of these in New York State alone, with a membership of around 200,000.

Already the committee has 204 women bankers organized for the job. This, in the words of Albert L. Muench, executive vice president of the New York State Bankers Assn., is quite an accomplishment.

Women aren't hard to find in banking circles hereabout. There are more than 3,000 with banking titles. In the United States there are perhaps 300,000 bank women. But that isn't the reason the association is calling on them to do the job.

The fact is, men, that women are important. Muench says women vote about 70 per cent of the shares at annual meetings of American corporations. He says they are the beneficiaries of 80 per cent of the trust funds. And they have the say-so in spending the greater part of the 35½ billion dollars a year of personal income of the nation.

Their economic importance to bankers also arises from the fact that 21 million women are employed, bringing in some 42 billion dollars before taxes.

Prime goals of the new drive, under the leadership of Mrs. Dorothy Noble Smith, assistant manager of a branch of the Chemical Corn Exchange Bank in New York City, are set forth thus:

1. To make the public aware of the bank's role in the community in financing business, agriculture, municipalities, families and individuals. 2. To expose the destructive force of inflation and preach the need for sound budgeting and planning. 3. To make the public see the bank as essential to the American type of a capitalistic economy.

Mrs. Smith says the committee will spread the gospel at the drop of a bonnet. It's ready to move in on the women's clubs when and if invited—and it's trying hard to see that it is.

Music Hath Charms in Many Different Forms

It is learned from the committee arranging the annual I.W.C.A. Hobby Show, scheduled for October 17-18, that Ann Jessor, children's librarian in Warren Public Library, has planned to have a display of her collection of music boxes as one of the show's features.

In this connection, a member of the committee has prepared the following article, under the caption "Music Hath Charms", crediting some of the material to Music Boxes—Their Lore and Laire, by Helen and John Hoke:

Big brother had been busy for a long time cleaning the tiny wheels with a solvent and brushing them with oil. This was important since the star wheels pluck the teeth of the comb and the comb is the heart of any music box.

Ann watched with all the absorbed interest of a youngster seeing a new toy being assembled. Then suddenly the music tumbled out—dainty, light and tinkly like something from the land of a Hans Christian Andersen fairy tale. At that moment Ann decided that someday she would have a music box of her own—perhaps she would even collect music boxes.

Today we have little Swiss movements concealed in every kind of pretty object. Ballerinas pirouette to music on jewel boxes; doorbells chim; teddy bears play sleepy songs; Christmas decorations carol seasonal melodies and cake stands offer Happy Birthday. Clocks, books, chairs, dolls—all have little pins striking the teeth of little combs and so make music.

In the old bell towers of Europe the first automatic music was made in the 14th century. A monk developed a bell ringing mechanism in a tower clock which operated life-sized figures to strike the bells on the hour.

Swiss watch makers first saw the possibilities for greater music. If heavy hammers could strike upon massive bells why couldn't tiny hammers strike little bells in a watch. So in the 17th century inventors began to try out their ideas and by 1730 the first cuckoo clock had emerged from the Black Forest and music boxes were appearing in Swiss shops. The first boxes were quaint little oddities but eventually they became instruments of precision capable of playing the most intricate and attractive melodies.

As the mechanism grew more complex and had more value the boxes that housed it reflected this value. Enamelled snuff boxes, inlaid with gold, silver and jewels housed dainty music and were given as princely gifts between countries and great families. Tunes were encased in walking sticks, opera glasses, picture albums. There is even a story that a bustle was given to Queen Victoria which would, when sat upon, play God Save the Queen.

In time elaborations of the music box appeared in the form of the barrel organ which was used in churches, the only skill required being the patient turning of a crank by the choirmaster as he used the Christmas barrel or the Easter barrel or just one containing the usual Sunday hymns.

The barrel was followed by the Orchestron—a bulky piece of furniture containing reproductions of the sounds of the instruments of the orchestra. This was supplanted by the player piano.

A relative, the calliope, was produced by a Massachusetts inventor who hoped its loud and commanding music would strike the consciences of the people on Sunday mornings causing them to come to church. He felt that the forcefulness of the music would make up for its lack of beauty. Unfortunately for him, the people still preferred to listen to church bells so the calliope found itself being taken to Mississippi River boats, carnivals and circuses.

The music box held its place in the world's parlors for 100 years. Mail order catalogues devoted pages to them, their wonder and versatility. You could buy one of them for $6.00 or for $45.00.

When Thomas Edison, in 1878, recorded Mary's Little Lamb on his phonograph the position of the music boxes was first shaken but it was 25 years before they were relegated to attics, barns, or junk heaps.

It is in these dark corners that excited collectors have found them and restored them to their original perfection. It is somewhat ironical that the very phonographs which sent music boxes into the discard are now playing recordings of their sweet lilting music.

Note to New Cooks: Invest in a wire cake-tester. You'll use it time and time again for testing cakes, cookies, breads—if you keep it handy.

The Mature Parent

Jealousy Can Bind Our Lives In Chains of Bitter Steel

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Jerry's mother had just begun to bathe his new brother when he appeared with his storybook of "The Three Bears." He wanted it read at once. Recognizing his jealousy, his mother said nervously, "Later, later—not now." Whereupon he shoved himself in between her and the baby's rubber bath stand, demanding even more urgently, "Read me my book—read me my book!"

Later she remembered how at the baby's bathtime Jerry was always discovering scratches that suddenly required band-aids or needs for immediate assistance in the bathroom. And she decided to solve the problem by postponing the baby's bath until Jerry had been retired to his afternoon nap.

This was not a solution. For while it rid Jerry's mother of his jealousy at an inconvenient time, it failed to rid her of her fear of it.

It is our fear of children's jealousy that makes it a problem. They can always feel our fear of it. Concluding that it must be a terrible thing to be able to scare us, they are driven to seek our reassurance more frantically. Later, to avoid our anxious disapproval, they may start pretending the jealousy is brotherly devotion.

Usually, those of us who try to "prevent" jealousy in children have not really faced it in ourselves.

We should try to. For jealousy is the demand that we should be able to surpass other people in every way.

Obviously we can't. We can't always expect to have more charm, more success, more popularity, better behaved children than our relatives and neighbors any more than Jerry can always expect to have the lion's share of his mother's attention.

Sooner or later we have to stop envying our brother's income—and start deriving more joy from our own.

Until this difference is accepted, jealousy's cruel and unfeasible demand that we should excel in everything can keep us miserably discouraged over ourselves—and frightened of the child who is struggling with his need for limitless satisfaction.

Jealousy is the beginning of Jerry's discovery that he is not Superman, an essential step in his acceptance of himself as he is. So we don't have to fear it. We can say, "Later—not now" with firmness instead of anxiety.

Civic Orchestra Group Going to Cleveland Clinic

Harry A. Summers, director of Warren Civic Orchestra, will be accompanying five musicians from that group to Cleveland for their participation in a special Civic Orchestra Clinic.

Arranged by Cleveland Symphony Orchestra for the benefit of civic orchestra groups in Ohio and this section of Pennsylvania, the clinic will be held in Severance Hall, with afternoon and evening sessions on Sunday, March 21, and again on March 28.

Designed primarily to aid string players, the sessions will allow local musicians to sit in with first desk men of the Cleveland Symphony while they learn the latest techniques in music of this particular type.

Attending the sessions from Warren will be Charlotte Erickson, Helen Olson and Barbara DeFrees, violins; Mary Mangus, viola; Eleanor Sandblade, cello.

GROUND-BREAKING AT PITTSFIELD EUB

In conjunction with the 9:30 a. m. Sunday worship service in Pittsfield EUB church, the Rev. Floyd Martin, pastor, announces there will be a ground-breaking ceremony to mark the start of an addition to house Sunday school rooms. C. C. Johnson, one of the older members of the congregation, will turn the first shovel of earth for the new structure.

The pastor also reminds that this service will include installation of those elected to serve as church and Sunday school officers in the coming year.

YOUNGSMVILLE PTA

Initial fall meeting for Youngsville PTA will be held at 8:00 p. m. Monday. There will be three musical selections and refreshments will be in charge of fourth grade mothers. H. J. Sherwood, supervising principal, and Jesse Lyons, high school principal, will speak on the school program for this year.

NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB

Home Street Girl Scout Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Melvin Haupt, 700 Conewango avenue, when plans for fall and winter activities were outlined. It was learned leaders for both Brownie and Intermediate troops are urgently needed. A social hour with refreshments concluded the afternoon.

MAKING FRIENDS

If you want to be helpful, one thing you can do for the friend who is visiting in your town with her children is to offer to entertain the children for an afternoon.

An adult visitor usually receives plenty of invitations but children don't always have as much planned for their enjoyment.

New Committees for Garland PTA Season

GARLAND — Mrs. Mearl Howell, president, conducted the initial PTA meeting of the 1958-59 season, after leading the group in Salute to the Flag, and announced the following committees for the year: Devotions, Ethel Morris; publicity, Mrs. Fred Day; program, Mrs. Bernal Holmes; membership, Mrs. John Sedlak, Jr.; Mrs. Fred Bugbee, Mrs. John Zolko, Mrs. Harold Holcomb; budget and finance, Mrs. Frank Briggs; magazines, Mrs. Frank Stec; flyers, Mrs. Chester Radecki, Mrs. Ward Van Guilder; room mothers, Mrs. George Pring, Mrs. Victor Hodak, Mrs. Bernal Holmes.

Mrs. Holmes was in charge of devotions. Reports were given by Mrs. William Fitzgerald, secretary, and Mrs. Frank Stec, treasurer. Discussion of playground equipment followed, with members of the executive committee selected to inquire into the purchase of a "merry-go-round" and "monkey bars" for use during recess and noon hour. Mrs. Mary Morgan's room won the award for having the most parents present.

Lunch committee for the October meeting was named: Mrs. Hodak, Mrs. James Graham, Mrs. James Black, Mrs. James Jewell. Program chairman, Mrs. Holmes, asked each member to identify herself by giving her name. Games were played, with prizes awarded to Mrs. Holcomb and Mrs. Briggs. A delicious luncheon was served in the cafeteria by Mrs.

Howell, Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Stec. Miss Laura Deming, principal, stated there are 98 pupils enrolled in the Garland school. Mrs. Jane Pratt, grades one and two, has 35 (23 new first graders); Miss Deming, grades three and four, with 34; Mrs. Mary Morgan, a new teacher for grades five and six, has the remaining 27.

Mrs. Milton Healy and Mrs. Fred Bills are back in their positions in the cafeteria and Richard Dahlstrom remains custodian this year.

REBEKAH MEETING

Lady Warren Rebekah Lodge will meet at 8:00 p. m. Friday, when election of officers and delegates to Grand Assembly will be held. A good turnout is urged.

OPEN HOUSE FOR THE HARRY TAFTS

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taft, 20 Swiss street, will observe the 45th wedding anniversary of their parents with open house on Sunday, September 21. The hours will be from 2:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon, and all relatives and friends are cordially invited.

BAPTIST CLASSES

Berean Class of First Baptist church will meet at the church at 8:00 p. m. Friday, with Mrs. Lloyd Blake, Edna Elder and Miss Nell Sill as hostesses. Philip Smith will show pictures of his western travels, and a good turnout is asked.

SOCIETY

PATTY BARON IS GUEST FOR PARTY

GARLAND—Mrs. Joe Baron, Chancellors Valley, returned to her Garland home recently to entertain the following in honor of the sixth birthday of her daughter, Patty: David Fitzgerald, Peggy and Michael Briggs, Bobby and Gregory Sedlak, Peggy and Johnny Taber, Becky Jo and Vicki Taydus, Barbara and Steve Stec, Linda Hodak, Susie Howell, Susie Day, Jimmy Baron, with Janet and Johnny Zolko of Torpedo.

Virginia and Kathy Taber planned the games; prizes were awarded to Gregory Sedlak, Michael Briggs, Janet and Johnny Zolko. Birthday cake and all the trimmings were thoroughly enjoyed by all the youngsters to conclude the fun-filled afternoon.

—Stokes Studio

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Swanson, Russell, announce the engagement of her sister, Janet Marie Houck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Houck of Meadville, to Airman Weston Warren Wilcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wilcox, Akeley.

Miss Houck, graduate of Eisenhower High School and Bryant-Stratton Business Institute in Buffalo, is employed by Warren Bank and Trust Company. Mr. Wilcox, alumnus of Northern Area School, is serving with the Navy as a graduate of Class A, aviation electrician's mate school at Jacksonville, Fla., and will be stationed at Patuxent River, Md.

Wedding plans are incomplete.

CIRCLE MEMBERS ELECT OFFICERS

Myrtle Beck Church of Grace Methodist Church held an organization meeting at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Bernard Joy, 619 Prospect street, with 11 members in attendance, and the following officers were elected:

Secretary, Mrs. Raymond Rapp; treasurer, Mrs. Fred Newmaker; sunshine, Mrs. James Adams; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Clayton Kiler; devotions, Mrs. Howard VanOrsdale; supply, Mrs. Carl McDonald; telephone committee, Mrs. Frank Iseman, Mrs. Flora Schanz. Monthly meeting date will be the second Monday.

In conclusion, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Hazel Firth, co-chairman.

ATTEND GRADUATION

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gagliardi and children, John, Marlene and Carol Ann, of 116 Cayuga avenue, were in Buffalo over last weekend to attend the graduation of Mary Rose Gagliardi from Mercy Hospital School of Nursing.

They were accompanied by Fortunato and Ned Zaffino, Wetmore street, with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Papalia and family, Eddy street, and Mrs. Rachel Belott of Punksutawney. Miss Gagliardi is a daughter of the Fred Gagliardi and granddaughter of Mrs. Belott.

Built-ins—A Passing Fancy Some Wish They'd Let Pass

An appliance designer predicts that women will soon weary of functional "built-ins" because women "go crazy if they can't move things around."

I'd be willing to bet the man is right. At the moment we're intrigued by having everything possible built into a house—built-in dressing tables, built-in beds, and so on.

But let us live with all these fine new built-ins for a while and we're bound to start wishing we could push them around.

For moving things around is the quickest, cheapest, least drastic means a woman has of changing a room when she begins to get sick and tired of looking at it as is.

A woman can make a lot of changes when she is dealing with a movable piece of furniture. She can retire it from the living room to a bedroom, saw off its legs to change its use, paint it a different color, or scrape off six layers of paint to get down to its original beautiful wood surface, or turn a footboard into a headboard and a dressing table into two bedside tables.

If she just sits and stares at a piece of furniture long enough, any woman with a hidden streak of the decorator in her soul can visualize it as something else.

But a built-in doesn't lend itself to change. It's just what it is, and there it stands defying the housewife to try and move or change it.

And there's another drawback to the built-in, so far as a woman is concerned. When you get tired of it how are you ever going to convince a husband it has to go? Or how can you relegate it to the garage, attic or basement until the man of the house has forgotten all about it and it is safe to sell it to a second hand furniture dealer or give it to a neighbor?

Women being women. I have to agree with the designer that the built-in isn't here to stay for the simple reason that it has to stay put.

County Teachers to Picnic on Saturday

The Warren County Branch, Pennsylvania State Education Association, will be under the presidency of Fred Bauer, of Northern Area Schools, in the coming year.

He announces his theme will be "An Informed Member Is An Alert Member", and, in his first letter to all Warren county teachers, has outlined his year's program.

First social event will be a picnic at Island Park in Youngsville on Saturday of this week, starting at four o'clock. Dinner will be served at 6:00, entertainment has been planned, and all new teachers will be welcomed.

Other officers and committee heads of the county group for this term are: Vice president, Thomas Barratt; secretary-treasurer, Pauline Schmidt; membership, Elizabeth Perkins; welfare, Ruth Howarth; public relations, Helen Morrow; publicity, Helena Iseman; legislation, John Binney; budget, Paul Ludwick; resolutions, Norge Lavison; ethics, Waide Ingols; retirement, Joe Frelick; Future Teachers of America, Edward Turchan.

MUSIC MEETINGS

Instrumental music department meetings will be held at three locations in the Northern Area School System, starting tomorrow. These sessions are planned for the purpose of acquainting parents and prospective students with the instrumental music program of NA Schools, also to help in selection of the proper instrument the child should play.

The schedule calls for these meetings: all at 7:30 p. m.: Friday, Sugar Grove School; Monday, Russell School; Tuesday, Lander School. Parents and prospective instrumental students are urged to attend any of these meetings they find most convenient.

EPWORTH CIRCLE

The September meeting of Bernadine Circle of Epworth Methodist church was held at the home of Thea Sederburg, with Ruth Anderson conducting devotions and IvaBelle Richael in charge of the business session. The evening was spent in making out the program and discussing projects for the new year, concluding with refreshments served by the hostess.

SORORITY MEETING

Alpha Mu Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, held its first meeting of the fall season at the home of Alice Anderson, Kinzua road. Following lunch, Viola Flowers, president, conducted the business session, when interesting reports of the state convention in Hershey were given by Miss Flowers, Miss Ema Christian and Miss Eva Brown.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO SCOTT STUART

SUGAR GROVE—Scott Stuart, Sr., was honored with a family party at his home Tuesday evening in celebration of his 85th birthday anniversary. Refreshments included a decorated birthday cake, a gift from Mrs. C. L. Ekdahl. Guests included his children, Mrs. Fulton McKay, Jamestown; John, William, and Scott, Jr., of Sugar Grove, with their families. A younger son, Robert, was unable to come from Pittsburgh, but telephoned greetings. Mr. Stuart is recuperating after a fall in his home and greatly enjoyed the many cards and gifts received from friends.

BEVERLY RAPP

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron E. Rapp, 113 McKinley street, was a member of the class graduated September 12 by Millard Fillmore Hospital School of Nursing in Buffalo. She served as president of her class last year, as vice president this year, and was also on the yearbook staff.

Also a member of the class of 42 students graduated was Carolyn Sadler, of Warren. Both girls were members of the Warren High School graduating class of 1955.

LACY PTA

The September meeting of Lacy PTA was conducted by Richard Scalise, president, and Mrs. Myron Rydholm led devotions. The ice cream social scheduled tonight was discussed, and teachers were welcomed and presented a gift.

James Wright, of the Scout office, spoke on Cub Scouting and expressed a wish that Lacy reorganize a Cub Pack. Teachers met with parents in classrooms and room awards were won by Miss Brown's first grade and Miss Master's kindergarten. Refreshments were served by the executive committee, headed by Mrs. Joseph Bunk and Mrs. Richard Reid.

BPW President At Dinner for National Leader

Mrs. Marion Davis, president of Warren Business and Professional Women's Club, was in Wilkes-Barre over last weekend to attend the dinner honoring Grace Daniels of Kingston, Pa., recently elected national BPW president.

More than 500 members attended the affair, held in the gymnasium of Wilkes College. Miss Daniels was presented with a check of $100 for the BPW Foundation and a set of luggage as a personal gift.

Others from this area attending were Mrs. Marjorie Farbell, Corry, who was District One director last year; Mrs. Cecelia Harry, Titusville, present district director.

Among speakers heard were Sally Butler, past national and international president, who told of the work of women in other countries and the task before women in America in international relationships.

Every district in Pennsylvania was represented in the gathering, as well as a number of national officers.

Mrs. Davis was in Bradford

Tuesday evening of this week to attend the initial meeting of the Bradford Federation at Hotel Emery.

TRYOUTS FOR SENIOR CLASS DRAMA

Tryouts for the senior class play, "Rebel Without a Cause", will be held immediately after school Friday under the direction of Richard Andersen, faculty advisor. Any interested seniors who cannot be present for the tryouts are asked to sign up with Mr. Andersen in Room 110.

Thirteen boys and 10 girls, plus extras, are needed for acting roles in this suspenseful drama of teen-age rebellion. All seniors are urged to attend the readings, where everyone will be given a fair opportunity as the play is cast.

TRINITY WOMEN

The Evening Chapter of Trinity Women met last evening in the parish house for a pleasant tureen dinner and a very interesting talk on "Supply" by Mrs. Margaret Wright of Smethport.

Gideon Speakers Here on Sunday

This Sunday is scheduled as a Gideon Rally in Warren churches. The Gideon organization is made up of consecrated Christian laymen, whose spiritual contribution to their fellowmen is the placing of Bibles in hospitals, hotels, and penal institutions.

Their unique ministry also includes distribution of New Testaments, with the Psalms and Proverbs, to school children and servicemen and women. They are financed by churches and church groups throughout the country.

Gideons speaking in Warren churches will come from DuBois, Erie, Eldred, Clearfield, Olean, N. Y. and Bradford. Two past state officers will be speakers, J. D. Williams, of Erie, who served as Pennsylvania state president for three years, and Curtis Smith, of Clearfield, who served as a state trustee for three years and is now president of the DuBois Camp of Gideons.

Warren is located in the territory assigned to the Bradford Camp of Gideons, organized in September 1941 and having an enviable record of Scripture distribution in the counties of Warren, McKean, Potter and Cameron, where they have placed 31,406 Bibles and Testaments. This includes 25,695 special Youth Testaments, including the Psalms and Proverbs, distributed in the public schools beginning with the fifth grade where they were requested.

LOYALTY CLASS

SUGAR GROVE—The monthly meeting of Loyalty Class of Free Methodist church was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Skinner, assisted by Mrs. Lewis Peterson.

The program included group singing, Scripture by Mrs. Ernest Landin, and prayer by Mrs. Arthur Bacon. Mrs. George Craker presented the program, and Mrs. Serrill Brown gave a reading. Mrs. Craker arranged an original puzzle, which provided amusing entertainment. Those present gave embarrassing moments and childhood memories.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Carl Allenson, and Mrs. Theodore Allenson offered prayer for refreshments. Mrs. Mabel Moyer will be hostess for the next gathering.

CIRCLE GATHERING

Initial meeting of Marjorie Jane Smock Circle was held at the home of Mrs. Helen Shelgreen, 13 Jefferson avenue, with 14 members present. The following chairmen will participate the coming year:

Chairman, Mrs. Shelgreen; co-chairman, Mrs. Helen Hauser; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Edna Kyler; devotions, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith; sunshine, Mrs. Anna Linneman; project, Mrs. Hazel Shield; calling, Mrs. Robert Watson, Mrs. Otto Arendt; program, Mrs. H. J. Samuelson.

It was decided to meet the first Monday night of each month. Marjorie Jane Smock sailed Saturday for England and a "bon voyage" note was sent her from the circle. She will study in England prior to going to Africa where she will be located.

Mrs. Shelgreen served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Tom Chitester.

Gathered From The Party Line

Miss Patricia Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ross of Thomas street, North Warren, has left for New Concord, O., where she will major in sociology at Muskingum College. Her twin sister, Priscilla, still convalescing at home following knee surgery, expects to enter the same school later in the month and will major in physical education.

Leaving this evening for a holiday jaunt to Hopewell, Va., are Mickey Lockitski, 19 South South street, Norma Johnson, 115 Conewango avenue, and Mary Ann Gahring, Valentine Run road. They will visit the latter's sister and brother-in-law, Pfc. and Mrs. Mac Huston, until Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Johnson, former Warren residents now living in Los Angeles, Calif., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Morris Anderson, 109 Center street, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chibberg at Scandia.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Davis have left to visit their sons, Richard P. Davis and family in Westfield, N. J., and John Davis and family in New York City.

Dianne Seymour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Seymour, 123 Redwood street, has left for Erie to enter the freshman class at Villa Marie College. She was a member of this year's graduating class in Warren High.

Quietly observing their 25th wedding anniversary today are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Slater of Roystone. Mr. Slater, Pennsylvania Gas Company employee, and Lena Roset were married at St. Callistus church in Kane 25 years ago. They have four children, Mrs. Madeline Stranava, Jerry, John and Kathleen Slater.

ERICKSONS HAVE QUIET ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. E. Harry Erickson, 17 Glenwood street, quietly observed their 55th wedding anniversary yesterday, and were remembered by their many friends with greeting cards, flowers and gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Erickson, lifelong residents of Warren, were married here September 17, 1903, by Rev. Frank Nelson, pastor of Bethlehem Congregational church, and Mr. Erickson reminisced that the ground was covered with snow on that day. Mr. Erickson was employed by United Lumber and Supply Company for 28 years and by Oneida Lumber Company for 12 years.

The couple wishes to thank all those who remembered them on the anniversary occasion.

SUNSHINE CLUB

LANDER—Mrs. Ernest Stanton entertained Sunshine Club members, with Mrs. Gayle Meley assisting the hostess for the 1:00 o'clock luncheon. Mrs. Stanton conducted the business session. Work was done on the quilt and reports were given by the sunshine committee. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Rapp, with Mrs. Ira Stufflebeam assisting.

SHEFFIELD

SHEFFIELD—Bethany Lutheran church evangelism committee announces meetings this evening, with the following as hostesses: Mrs. William Dalton, Mrs. Anna Byrne, Mrs. Dorothy Gustafson, Eunice Anderson, Mrs. Carl Elason and Mrs. Laurence Stotz; leaders, Philip Amundson, Pastor Elason, Gerald Newburg, Leon Anderson, Mrs. Elason and Mrs. Stotz.

Visiting friends here have been Frank Klinefiver, Gary, Ind.; Mrs. Ruth Matheson Fulton and Thomas A. Farnsworth, Barstow, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Matheson, Pine Camp, Pa.

Mrs. Sam Miller, New York City, is visiting her sister, Phyllis, and the Epstein brothers.

Development Association Board Meets

Warren County Development Association Board of Directors met last night in the offices of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce and saw a new film on industrial development "Gold Mine on Main Street" as part of the program.

The new film will be shown in this area during the next few months through the courtesy of the Pennsylvania Electric Company; it deals with the importance of industrial development to the community and shows methods of carrying out a productive program.

The Board voted to donate copies of the new Fact Manual prepared by Arthur D. Little Company to all high schools and all public libraries in Warren County. The manual is full of statistics about our area of interest particularly to industrial executives and is being made available to those who have an interest in this field.

It was announced that the first industry feasibility study made by Arthur D. Little which deals with forest product industry potential for Warren County is complete and will arrive from the printers in a few weeks. Meanwhile the Little firm is working on the second of these reports which are studies of the type of industry most suited to our area.

Executive Director Charles Tranter reported on a recent visit of Melvin Blair, from the State Department of Commerce who presented the Association a check for $718—the second payment from the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Assistance Act.

Present last night were the following directors: E. Leo Johnson, Frank Segal, Charles Preston, T. G. Peterson, Robert O. Wilder, Ervin Rader, N. B. Matthews, and Eugene Anderson.

Special Gifts Division Holds Kick-off Meeting

The Special Gifts Division of Warren's Community Chest campaign started its work last evening with a kick-off meeting in the Chest office. The Special Gifts Division workers are the first to receive their materials and kits in the annual drive and will have most of their assignment completed by October 13 when the fund appeal gets fully underway.

This year's Chest goal is $83,210 which is 12% higher than last year and the quota set for the Special Gifts and Professional Men Division is $13,500.

Byron W. Knapp, General Chairman for the drive, presided yesterday and explained the need for an additional 12% this fall to take care of our own local health, welfare and youth agencies which are constantly increasing their services to the communities and are faced with the rising costs of operation.

Mr. Knapp discussed the prospects of reaching the higher goal stating that it can be done if all donors will raise at least the 12%. He pointed out that while industrial employees giving has advanced steadily throughout the past few years, other groups of citizens have not kept pace and special appeals will be made this year to those persons.

Neil Paterson, Chairman of Special Gifts Division, passed out the workers kits to the following volunteer solicitors: A. L. Rasmussen, Edward Ley, Lynn Branch, Ray Steber, Carroll Smith, R. O. Wilder, Duane Wilder, Weston Emsworth, Robert Dunham, Clifford Betts, Knox Harper, Shirl Glass, Frank Perrin, James Franz and Richard Betts.

The kick-off address was given by Julius Thorn, General Secretary of YMCA whose inspirational remarks pointed out what the Community Chest is in terms of people and what it means to individuals to support the ten local Chest agencies in our community.

Jittery Construction Gamblers

Speaking of sports, two of the three gentlemen in the above picture have a right to feel jittery as they fish around in Allegheny River. As chief gamblers of Milano Construction Company from Erie, they have waged a considerable sum on much lower water than is presently flowing down between tranquil Allegheny banks. Sometimes this fall, the men in the tub are going to have to sink the final sewer line crossing from Clark street pumping station to Crescent park. Tentative dates have been postponed twice as one of the wettest Septembers on record continues to delight in marooning Milano on the banks. Above, Harold Clark "fishes" with a spear for the shortest, shallowest crossing in water now running two to three feet deeper than expected. With back to camera is "P. J." Milano, a wet weather sportsman who idles away the rainy season in between river crossings with less dangerous pursuits.

The Milanos have already put a force main across Alle-

With the Candidates

LAWRENCE
MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Citing a need for agricultural development, Democratic gubernatorial candidate David L. Lawrence pledges to start an advertising and promotion program for the state's farm products.

In an address Wednesday night to a rally in this Crawford County seat, the Pittsburgh mayor said, "Why shouldn't we point proudly to Crawford County buckwheat and the maple products of Somerset County and the mushrooms, the apples, the potatoes and the grapes which are bountifully produced by Pennsylvania's farmlands?"

Lawrence said that we must make sure that the farm family everywhere in Pennsylvania has opportunities in education, public health and library services and community facilities.

McGONIGLE
SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Arthur T. McGonigle, Republican candidate for governor, declared today his Democratic opponent shows "indifference and laxity" toward crime in Pittsburgh.

McGonigle referred to Pittsburgh Mayor David L. Lawrence, his opponent in the Nov. 4 election.

"Because of the reluctance or inability of Lawrence's administration to act, the U.S. Government has announced it will move to break up crime in Pittsburgh," McGonigle said in a speech prepared for delivery to an audience of Scranton Republican women.

"U.S. Atty. Herbert I. Tiedbaum announced to Pittsburgh newsmen that a number of Pittsburgh police officials have been taking graft for a long time," McGonigle said.

"Under Lawrence, the Pittsburgh police department has been riddled with politics and corruption."

"Is this good administration? You know it isn't—you know it's disgraceful."

Wednesday night Rep. Hugh Scott, GOP Senatorial candidate, proposed a five-point program to safeguard administration of union welfare and pension funds.

gheny River from Pine street pumping station to the main treatment plant on the South Side. There the water averaged three feet deep and even that necessitated an extra 350-gallon-per-minute pump as seepage poured in, slowing below-river-level work. This week Milanos were still waiting for a foot less in the up-river flow when the rains came. Now the delay will be longer.

And further trouble is bound to plague the gamblers who choose to remain faceless because of the unique nature of their profession. On the far side of Allegheny River, near the railroad bridge beyond Ott's Tower, a gravel scoop once came in and removed tons of rock from the river bottom. Left, facing the gamblers: a 15-to-20-foot trough as the sewer line angles under the power lines near the south shore. Good luck, gamblers.

UE Installs Local Officers at Meeting

William Delbert Anderson of Pennsylvania Furnace and Iron Company was installed as president of United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, Local 633, at a meeting last night in local UE headquarters, 103 Liberty street. He succeeded in office former president Jack Eggleston.

Ted Buzcek, International representative of Erie, also acted as installing officer for: Virgil Palmer of PF&L, vice president; James Lyle of PF&L, treasurer, Francis Ponsoli of PF&L, financial secretary; Ed Schuler of DeLuxe Metal Furniture Co., sergeant at arms; Harold Bailey of PF&L, Floyd Nelson of DeLuxe and Donald Sandberg of PF&L, trustees; Ross Akers of PF&L and Sam Cerola of DeLuxe, chief stewards.

A.P. Death Record

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Herbie Fields, 39, one of the country's leading jazz musicians, died Wednesday. Police said he committed suicide by taking an overdose of sleeping pills. His saxophone won him both big prizes of American jazz, the Esquire and Metronome awards.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rear Adm. Charles W. O. Bunker, 76, former commanding officer of the Bethesda Naval Medical Center, died Tuesday of a heart ailment. He joined the Navy in 1907 and began a 37-year career as an expert on tropical medicine and naval hospital administration.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rear Adm. William Henry Shea, 81, once commander of the famous old Coast Guard cutter Bear, died Wednesday. He began his career as a Coast Guard officer at the turn of the century and first arrived in 1941 but returned and was chairman of the U.S. Maritime Commission's Survey Board during World War II. He was born in Albany, N.Y.

REDDING, Conn. (AP) — Mrs. Coco Malowney Roper, 83, mother of Elmo Roper, public opinion analyst, died Tuesday. She was the widow of Elmo B. Roper, a banker of Hebron, Neb., who died last December.

RACIAL LITIGATION
MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—In what may be the forerunner to a suit in federal court, Montgomery's City Commission Wednesday rejected a petition by 120 Negroes asking to use all-white city parks. The commission again vowed that if necessary to prevent race-mixing, the parks would be closed. It refused to grant the Negroes a hearing on their request.

Oddities in the News

DETROIT (AP) — Police rate Carl Erb a hard luck bandit. Erb locked a service station attendant behind what he thought was a closet door. The door proved to be a rear exit. The attendant called police.

The fleeing Erb threw away a coat. Police found a medicine bottle bearing his name and address in one pocket.

Held on a robbery charge, Erb told police he spent the night with a companion. Police checked. The companion said he was helping Erb with a robbery.

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) —Harold Dukes, 23, dislocated a vertebrae while showing his 6-year-old daughter Gail how to swing a hula hoop. He's in the hospital.

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — Varsity letters and letter sweaters are going to be awarded for academic excellence at Denison High School. "Nothing could provide more prestige to a high school student than the privilege of wearing such a jacket," said School Supt. H. W. Goodgun.

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — U.S. Deputy Marshal Hugh Stevens traveled hundreds of miles during the past three months trying to run down Raymond G. Pendergrass on a stolen check charge. Stevens was on his way to his office in the Post Office Building Wednesday when he bumped into and nabbed Pendergrass standing at the money order window.

Universities of State To Appeal For More Money

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pennsylvania's Legislature will be asked to allocate more money during the next biennium to four of the state's largest universities.

Dr. Eric A. Walker, president of Pennsylvania State University, said today he has already submitted a request for more funds to Gov. George M. Leader. He declined to name the figure.

Walker's statement followed one yesterday by the heads of Temple University and the Universities of Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh. They said the schools would seek a "major increase" but did not elaborate.

"The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will soon be faced by an unprecedented load of college age students," Walker said. "Unless the capacities of our colleges are expanded to a considerable degree, many young men and women will be deprived of a higher education."

Walker said the request was submitted recently to Leader's office, which is preparing budget recommendations. The recommendations will be submitted to the next administration for approval before going to the General Assembly.

The requests for more money, though expected, will bear new significance in the next Legislature in view of national concern with educational programs.

State Rep. Norman Wood (R-Lancaster), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, was in Boston and unavailable for comment on the colleges' moves. But a Republican colleague on the committee viewed educational needs as "one of the most important questions facing the next Legislature."

In their statement, the heads of Temple and Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh Universities noted Soviet Russia's progress in higher education will form a basis of their appeal for more funds.

Pennsylvania's president, Gaylord P. Harnwell, and Pittsburgh's chancellor, Edward H. Litchfield, observed Russian techniques the past summer as members of a State Department delegation which traveled abroad.

The two, and Robert L. Johnson, president of Temple, plan a series of statewide meetings to report their findings.

Penn State asked for a 10 per cent increase to $27,713,400 in 1957 and received nearly that amount from the assembly. A total allocation of $24,165,120 to the other schools was divided as follows: Pittsburgh, $9,844,166; Pennsylvania, $8,413,120; and Temple, $5,907,834.

Hollywood News

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Who is your favorite actor?

I don't mean just the current heart throb. I mean the actor you enjoy year after year, who is satisfying even in mediocre or poor movies.

Several come to mind—Walter Huston, Humphrey Bogart, Fredric March, James Cagney, William Holden, Marlon Brando. But I think my all-time favorite was Robert Donat.

My first encounter with him was "The Count of Monte Cristo," and I'll never forget his escape from the Chateau d'If. The other films were equally vivid—"39 Steps," "The Ghost Goes West," "The Citadel," "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," "Vacation From Marriage."

Robson directed the actor in "The Inn of the Sixth Happiness" with Ingrid Bergman and Curt Jurgens in Wales.

"I thought of Donat for the part of the Chinese mandarin and had a meeting with him and his solicitor in London," said Robson. "He seemed quite ill and was very quiet through the meeting. After he read the script, he told me it was something he would like to do. But he suggested that I talk first to his doctor.

"The doctor told me that Donat had been a dying man, but now there appeared some hope. He thought work would be the best thing in the world for him. The studio wanted him to test to see if he could look Chinese. I told them you don't ask Robert Donat to test—just pin a thin goatee on his photograph. They agreed.

"When he started to work, I was surprised to learn that he worked like Garbo—with flats surrounding the set so no one could see his performance except the other actors, the cameraman and myself. Even the workers above the set had to hide from view.

"His first scenes appeared to be a great effort for him. I thought he would improve, but I found out that he was at his peak. Afterward, he declined. He seemed to have no strength and remembering lines was a struggle for him. I had to shoot some scenes many times. On occasion, I used blackboards to help him remember.

"Ingrid and Curt were extremely kind to him, and he was appreciative for everything. He was a very unimposing man. He seemed unsure of himself as an actor and even surprised at the success he had had.

Donat was failing rapidly, and Robson was faced with a problem. The huge Chinese village that had been built in Wales had to be bombed for the latter part of the film. Donat had to appear in the later scenes, yet many more scenes had to be made of the un-bombed village. Robson flushed up Donat's scenes by bombing small portions of the set.

"His last scene was the most prophetic I have ever directed," Robson said. "In it he said goodbye to his friends and his past. The day after he finished, he went into the hospital. Two weeks later, he was dead."

THE CAR

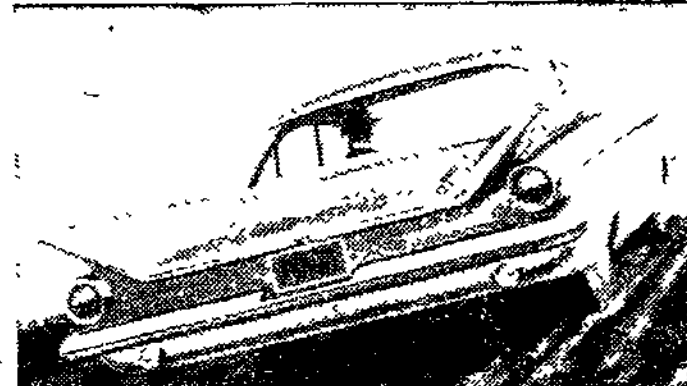

ELECTRA 225 IN THE EYE STOPPING NEW 4-DOOR HARDTOP

Here it is . . . and now you know! Know why we have called this THE CAR. Know that a new generation of great Buicks is truly now here. From just this one view you can see that here is not just new design . . . but splendidly right design for this day and age. A car that is lean and clean and stunningly low . . . and at the same time great in headroom and legroom, easy to get into or out of. And when you see your Buick dealer and walk the whole wonderful way around this Buick, you'll know still more how right all this is. From anywhere you look, here is a classic modern concept that is Buick speaking a new language of today. A language of fine cars priced within the reach of almost anyone. A language of quality and comfort and quiet pride of ownership . . . a language of performance satisfactions without equal.

THE LOOK. It's a clean, lean, new kind of fine-car look. Fresh. Crisp. Splendid. It's a look that proclaims your good taste to the whole wide world. The look of the best-engineered, best-manufactured Buick ever built . . . and the most excitingly beautiful design in Buick's nearly 60 proud years.

THE ACTION. Get the feel of thrifty new Wildcat engines. New Equipose ride. New aluminum brake drums. New constant-speed electric windshield wipers. New Easy Power Steering.* New Twin-turbine and Triple-turbine transmissions.* New automatic heat and fresh air control.*

THE QUALITY. Buick quality to the core, new super-quiet bodies by Fisher—and there just isn't anything better. New Magic-Mirror finish retains its beauty longer. New interior décor throughout. Safety-Plate Glass everywhere. A new hardtop design—closest ever to having no top. Magnificent new quietness, new comfort, the feel of fine-car quality everywhere! Yours to test, yours to savor—the look, the action, the quality of the magnificent new Buick for 1959. If you know cars—and if we know you—the car is your car!

PRISCILLA'S POP

By AL VERMEER

YOU'D BETTER BE CAREFUL, STUART! THAT BALL MISSED ME BY INCHES!

INCHES? IT MISSED YOU BY 15 FEET!

WELL, THAT'S 180 INCHES!

THANK HEAVENS, CARLYLE, THAT YOU'VE GOT MORE COMMON SENSE THAN YOUR SISTER!

BOY, I'LL SAY!

IMAGINE! SHE WANTS TO BOARD DOGS IN OUR HOUSE!

50 DOGS AT $2 A PIECE! MAN, THAT'S CRAZY!

WHY WE COULD GET $5 A PIECE EASY!

PRISCILLA! WHAT'S THIS?

I'VE GONE INTO BUSINESS, MOM!

IF WE TAKE IN 50 DOGS I'LL MAKE $100 A WEEK!

JEEPERS! I NEVER GET TO DO ANYTHING!

HAZEL!

WHAT IS IT? DID YOU LAND A BIG ORDER? A RAISE?

NOPE! JUST GLAD TO BE HOME!

GOP Strategists Worrying About Holding Senate Seats

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican strategists apparently have decided their best chance of defeating a Democratic senator lies in an all-out effort against Sen. William Proxmire in Wisconsin. Field reports to the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee have pictured Proxmire as the most vulnerable of 33 Democratic senators whose seats are at stake in November. Proxmire was elected last year after GOP Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy died.

Although the Republicans are reluctant to talk about it, their surveys are said to show no other contest giving their party what they regard as an even chance of picking up a seat from the Democrats.

Since they already have lost one seat in Maine, the GOP cam-aigners would have to hold the remaining 20 they have at stake and gain two others to be in a position to control the new Senate. In such circumstances they could do this with Vice President Nixon's tie-breaking vote.

Democrats outnumbered Republicans 49-47 before GOP Sen. Frederick G. Payne was beaten in Maine.

Republican hopes of defeating Proxmire rest in uniting party strength behind Roland J. Steinle, their nominee, in a state that ordinarily is counted in the GOP column.

The Republicans have been pecked up somewhat by canvasses elsewhere. These indicate to them that some of the seats they now hold may not be in as much danger as they believed after Payne went down in Maine.

Privately Republican lieutenants say they regard only six GOP seats as certainly safe—those in Nebraska, Ohio, North Dakota, Delaware, Wyoming and Vermont. They are only a little less certain, however, about Utah and Nevada. They are frankly worried about Indiana.

Reports from field workers indicate that GOP prospects have been looking up recently in Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, New York, Maryland, Minnesota, Pennsylvania and in West Virginia, where two GOP seats are being contested.

There has been no such cheering news, however, from Michigan, where GOP Sen. Charles E. Potter, apparently is fighting a tough uphill battle.

Republican hopes of holding on to the seat Sen. Irving M. Ives is vacating in New York have been raised by nomination of Nelson Rockefeller as the party's candidate for governor, as well as the choice of Rep. Kenneth B. Keating as nominee for the Senate.

HAND HOG ROOTS OWN DESTRUCTION

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The hand hog goes out of his way to find excuses for stealing the play from his partner. South's excuse for his two-heart bid was that he didn't know whether to bid two or three spades; his excuse for his four-heart bid was that he wanted to conceal his spade fit from the opposition.

His excuse for standing for the double was that he expected to make the contract and he would have gotten away with it if East had not made a spectacular play at trick two.

East won the opening diamond lead and looked over dummy carefully. His partner had raised diamonds so South was marked with a singleton. Hence there was no second diamond trick. West probably held something or other in spades but dummy's spades lay over him like a tent.

West probably held the ace of clubs but that would keep him the only chance to beat the hand would be to get a spade trick.

East led his singleton spade right up to dummy. This killed West's king which was dead anyway, but it gave West a chance to take the first heart trick and give East a ruff to defeat the contract.

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

CONSTRUCTIVE LEARNING—Some youngsters in St. Louis, Mo., find geography is great fun when they can tour the country with the help of a large map drawn on a school playground. The city's board of education paints these maps in order to help children learn to locate all the states. They also have a good time while they learn.

MOTHER AND SON—Mama mandrill "Peppita" is looking at the world with very wide eyes as she introduces her four-day-old son George to the world. They live in the London Zoo but hail from West Africa, and are related to baboons. George is still too young to show much curiosity.

WOTTA MELON!—Scratching his head in puzzlement, Nick Ferraidio ponders how to move that giant watermelon he raised on the vine in his backyard at Miami, Fla. The 57-pound monster was ready to be eaten, but Nick wasn't sure he could get it to the house, even with the help of that wheelbarrow. From this angle, it looks too big for the 'barrow.

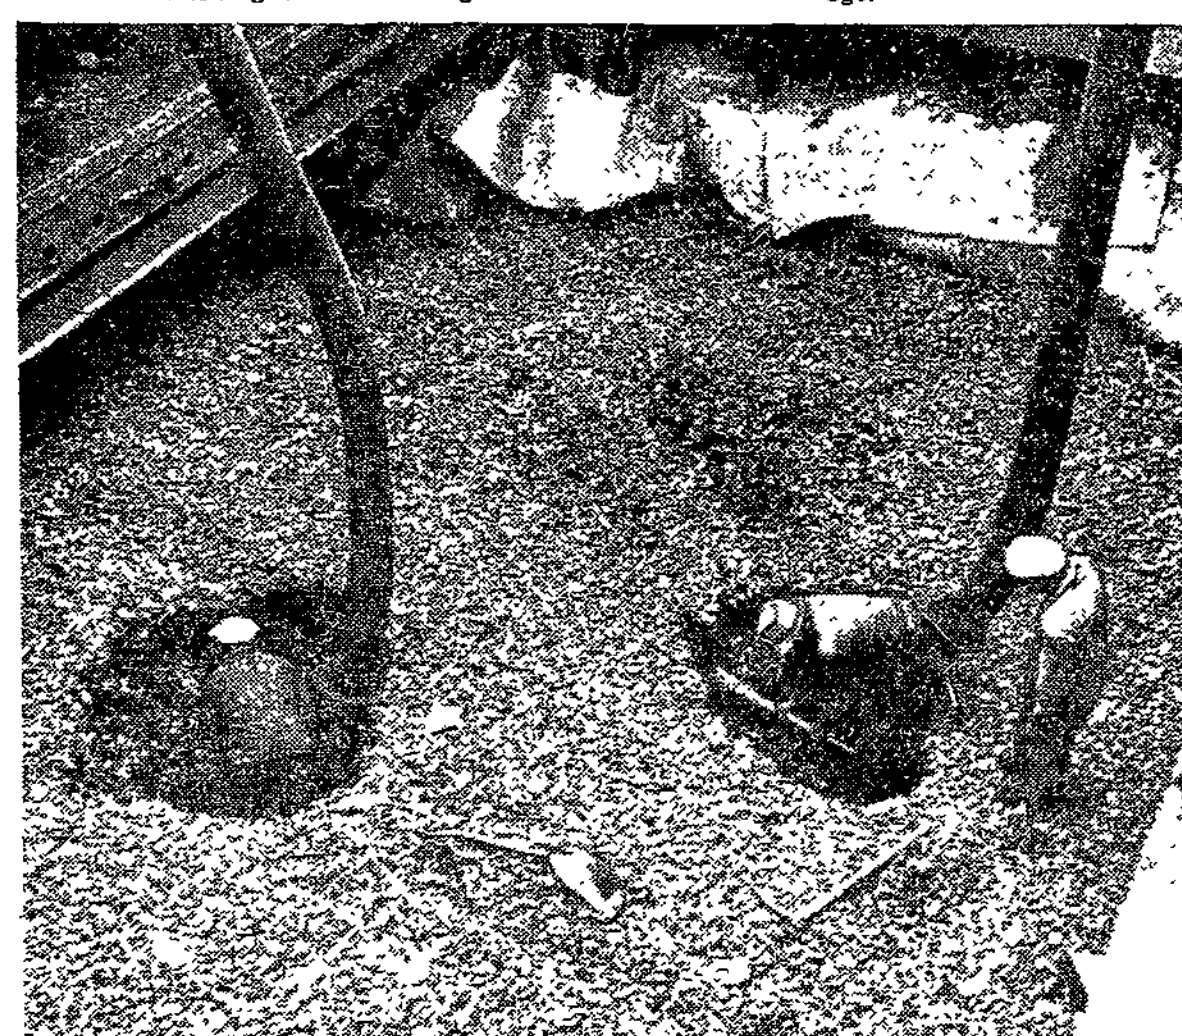

WELL, WELL—Carol Baker seems to be feeling just fine as she perches in the sun along a concrete jetty in Laguna Beach, Calif. She's mighty easy to spot in the leopard swimsuit, and a lot of hunters might train their sights on her.

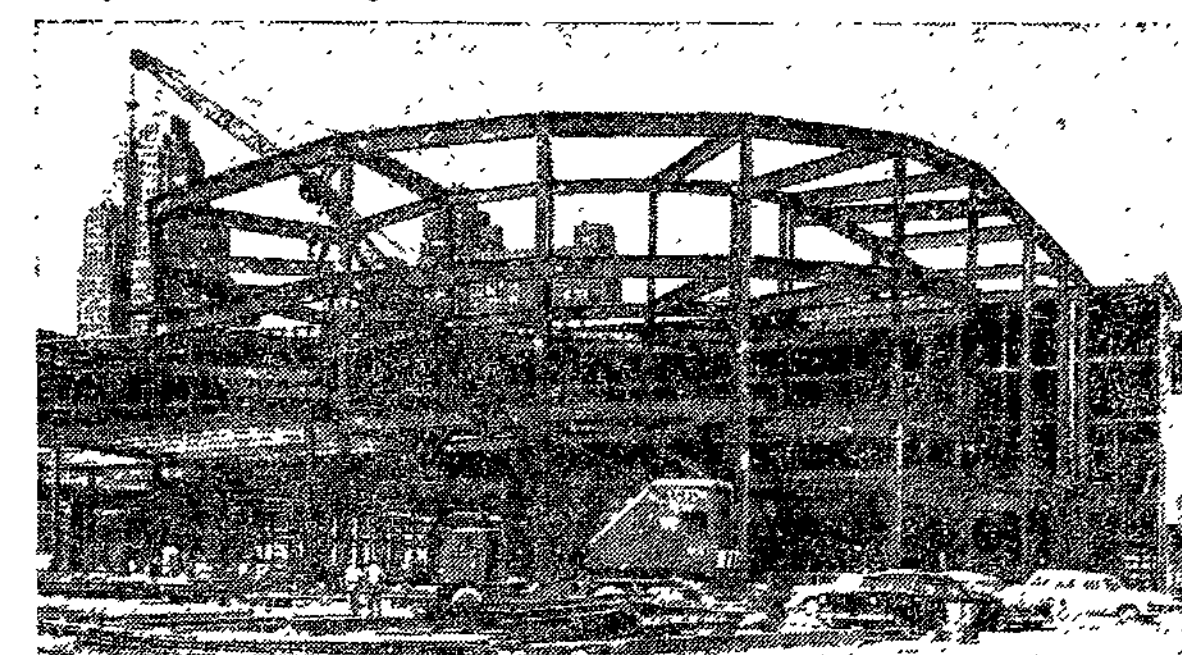

GOLD IN GHANA—Wearing his royal robes, a tribal chief in Ghana is further distinguished by his golden ornaments. Gold has been used as a means of royal identification by native chieftains since the metal was discovered in the country many centuries ago.

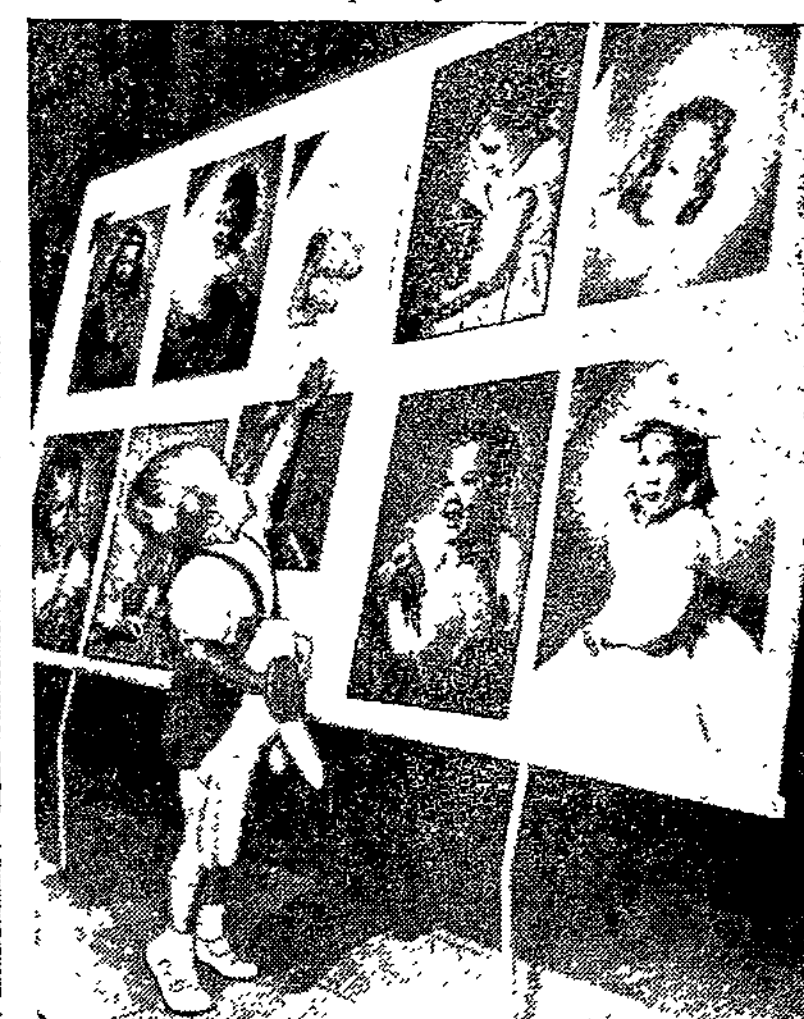

FAITHFUL FRIEND—Loyal to her master even in illness, Bonnie, a seeing-eye boxer, maintains a vigil at a hospital in Denver, Colo. Her master, William M. Williams, 64, lies in an oxygen tent as nurse Mary Sanchez ministers to him. Williams suffers from an acute respiratory infection.

CARGO OF COPRA—Tons of it from the Philippine Islands are being unloaded from the hold of a freighter in San Francisco by huge "suckers" which operate like a vacuum cleaner. Stevedores position two 8-inch pipes which will lift the dried coconut meat to a dockside conveyor and then to storage warehouses.

ROUND AND ROUND—As the circular automobile ramp for the new Exhibition Hall nears completion in Detroit, Mich., its spiral framework resembles the skeleton of a roller coaster. When it's ready, the roof of the hall will accommodate about 1,600 autos.

A MATTER OF TASTE—Although he's not quite two, Banky Oetiker has definite ideas about his young girl friends. He's acting as an amateur judge while choosing his personal winner from a gallery of children's portraits at a photographers convention in Chicago.

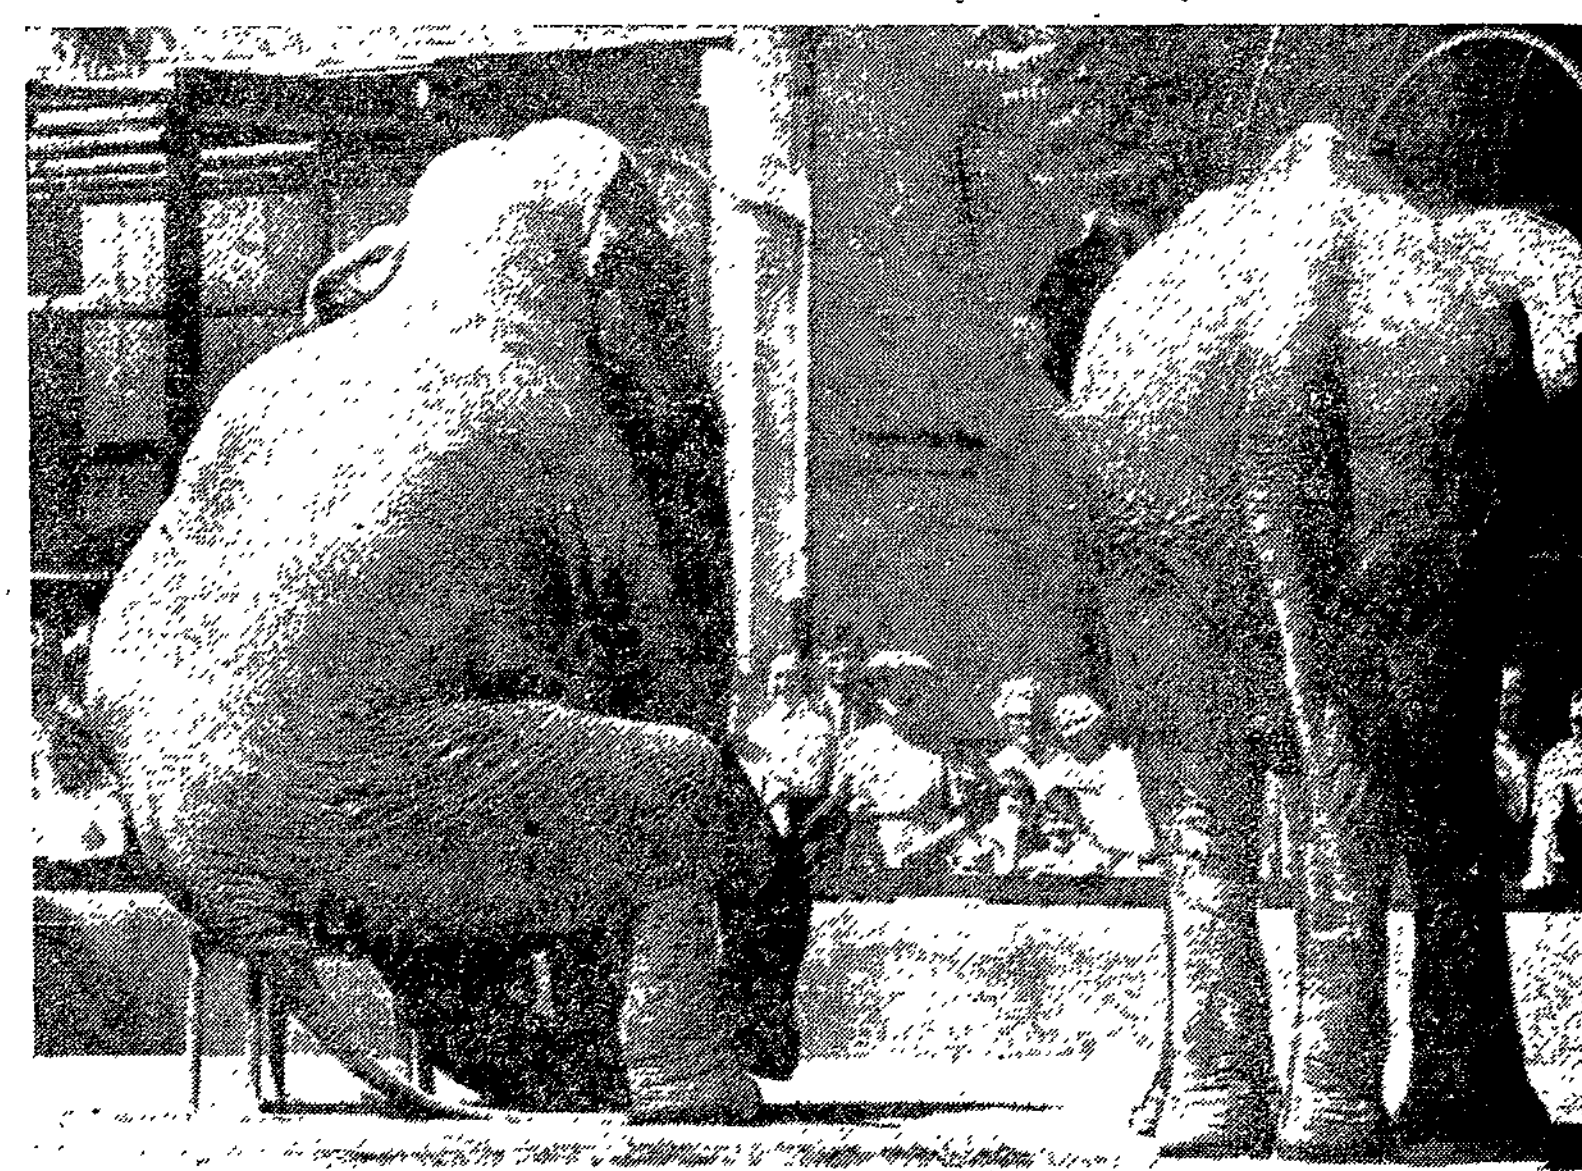

THEY'RE ON IT—Anne Bancroft and Dana Andrews, who comprise the entire cast of "Two For The Seesaw," in New York, took time out before a matinee performance to try out a seesaw in Central Park. Andrews replaced Henry Fonda in the comedy hit on Broadway.

SASHAYING—A pull-through sash lightly indents the waist and gives a two-piece look to a sherry red dress. The tissue tweed dress falls freely except for the sash which helps give a touch-and-go silhouette. It was introduced at a style show in Manhattan.

PEACE PIPE PARLEY—In Clayton, N. Y., the world's biggest peace pipe was smoked to celebrate nearly 150 years of peace on the world's longest undefended border between the U. S. and Canada. Peter Garrow, left to right, Mayor Gordon Cerow and Tony La France gave it a workout. Garrow and La France are St. Regis Indians, with the real know-how.

ONCE OVER HEAVILY—One of the elephants at the zoo in Frankfurt, Germany, is just too tired to stand up, left. Unlike his friend at right, the pachyderm has learned that one of the nicest blessings of civilization is a comfortable seat. They seem to be holding court with well-wishers who have dropped in for a friendly visit.

Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ham will appear on many American dinner tables this weekend, judging by the specials offered by the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores. Beef also will be a popular item.

Boneless cross rib roast, short ribs, rump roast and regular rib roast are among feature cuts prominently displayed. Offerings of fowl are somewhat scarcer than in the summer months, and leg of lamb also is the featured item infrequently. Meat prices are up a little here, down a little there, with no clearly discernible trend anywhere. Butter is a cent or two higher in some places. Eggs are up a few cents a dozen in some areas, but slightly lower in others. Although supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables are getting a bit scarcer than a month ago, enough are in season to provide almost any shopper with one or two family favorites at bargain levels. When frost knocks out much of the local produce, things may be different. Cabbage, potatoes, onions, beets, carrots, radishes, green onions and sweet potatoes are the best buys of the week, although cabbage is a shade higher than recent dirt-cheap levels. Good buys are available, too, from snap beans, cucumbers, sweet corn, spinach, squash (both yellow and green), brussels sprouts, cauliflower, broccoli and iceberg lettuce. Apples are getting an early start at the head of the best buy list. The most recent Department of Agriculture forecast estimated the crop would run 5 per cent above last year's and 15 per may have served as town marshals. But he says he has nothing to show they were ever U.S. marshals.

Modern U.S. marshals — unlike sheriffs, or city police or the FBI — can't go snatching law violators off the streets. They make arrests only on orders from a federal judge for some specific offense against a court decree.

For this reason the marshals in Little Rock couldn't be used to preserve order for its own sake but only on instructions from a federal judge if one of his orders was disobeyed.

But marshals do other things: they take convicted federal prisoners to federal jails, preserve order in federal courtrooms and serve court orders. Under court decree they guard property or seize it, and pay witnesses and jurors in federal court cases.

There are 94 U.S. marshals, one for each judicial district. Salary: from $8,330 a year to $12,770, depending on the size of their job. They're appointed by the President for four years, can be fired any time before then.

They're really political appointees, and change with administrations in Washington. They appoint their own deputies, when there's an opening, and usually from their own political party.

But deputies keep their jobs, don't change with administrations. Pay for the 710 deputies starts at $4,490, goes up to a top of $5,880. Their jobs are not covered by civil service.

But they can get a pension and, despite the low salary, Matchett says turnover is small. They must meet certain requirements to get the job, get a physical test and take a marksmanship test once a year.

Egg whites, heavy cream and gelatin mixtures expand when they are beaten because air is being introduced.

General Business In Pennsylvania Hits High Figure

UNIVERSITY PARK — Although down 6 per cent from a year ago, general business in Pennsylvania during July reached the second highest figure on record for the month.

The Bureau of Business Research at the Pennsylvania State University reported today that the Index of General Business in July stood at 168 as compared to 179 a year ago. The gain from June was 3 per cent.

The Index of General Business is based on bank deposits, factory payrolls, and industrial power sales and uses the years 1947-49 as 100.

Four of 12 cities for which individual indexes can be computed scored gains over 1957. The largest gain, 10 per cent, was reported for Allentown, while Pittsburgh showed a loss of 13 per cent.

Series that did better than expected from June to July included bank deposits, factory hours and payrolls, life insurance sales, and postal receipts. Factory employment showed little change which was about as expected.

Among the series that declined more than was expected were carloadings in the Allegheny district, anthracite and bituminous coal production, building operations, and street railway revenue traffic.

Unemployment remained at 10.9 per cent of the civilian labor force, as was the case in June.

With few exceptions, most series declined from a year ago. Anthracite and bituminous coal production and street railway revenue traffic were at record low points. Carloadings in the Allegheny district were the worst for the month since 1932. Factory employment and hours were the lowest in recent years, except for employment in 1956. Several other series were under 1957. This was true of bank deposits which, however, were at their second highest point, and factory payrolls, which were at their third highest point.

Despite the unfavorable situation in many series, several made new monthly records. They included store sales, life insurance sales, telephones, and postal receipts, all at new peaks.

The report for the Warren area follows: Warren business in July found three out of five indicators at new monthly peaks. They were building operations, postal receipts, and telephones. Industrial power sales, however, were the lowest since 1955, and new car sales in the county were under last year.

Corry K of C Council Enjoys Garland Event

GARLAND—Mr. and Mrs. Tony Stec, Corry, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stec, Pittsfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stec were among an estimated 100 Corry Knights of Columbus members and their families enjoying an all-day outing at Stecs' camp near here.

Among the day's features were pony rides, a penny hunt in the sawdust, and other games for the kiddies, with winners including Joey and Mary Stec, of Garland. A corn roast concluded the pleasant get-together.

ily in Cleveland and visited many old friends in that vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith, Nancy Martin, Raymond and Judy Leofsky and Tom Smith spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leofsky in Buffalo. They also enjoyed a visit at Niagara Falls, crossing over to view points of interest on the Canadian side.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leofsky and children, Richard, Carolyn, Ronnie and Randy, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Leofsky in Erie. Mrs. W. C. Leofsky spent the day with the Peter Leofsky's, also in Erie.

HEARING HITS ROADBLOCK

A second attempt to open hearings on the Pennsylvania Railroad's application to drop two Harrisburg - Williamsport passenger trains ran into another roadblock Monday at Williamsport — lack of a hearing room. The hearing had been scheduled for the Lycoming County Courthouse. But when representatives of the railroad and protesting communities arrived they found all courtrooms occupied by the current term of court. Attorneys for the two sides agreed tentatively on Sept. 29 and 30 and Oct. 1 for the postponed hearing. Examiner Calvin Spiller said he would submit the date to the Public Utility Commission for approval.

Study Report on Library Needs Is To Be Submitted

HARRISBURG (AP)—A special study report on Pennsylvania's library needs recommends that a state-aided library system be set up at a cost of up to 5 1/2 million dollars a year.

Ralph Blasingame, state librarian, said this unprecedented recommendation, and others, would be made to Gov. Leader's Commission on Libraries next Monday when the report is presented to the 24-member group. The study was made by a commission staff headed by Dr. Lowell Martin, dean of Rutgers University's Graduate Library School.

The crux of the proposal is that existing major libraries be used as centers around which local libraries would be organized, on a voluntary basis, in areas where there are no libraries or where the libraries are substandard.

At the keystone of the system would be the Philadelphia Free Library, the Carnegie Library in Pittsburgh, the Pennsylvania State University Library and the State Library here. Under them the survey group recommended that some two dozen or more libraries be organized as district centers.

Blasingame said the study suggested that Pennsylvania could establish for $1.90 a person a system comparable to what the American Library Assn. says should be done for $2.50. He said the present per capita expenditures is 83 cents.

The group suggests that the state contribute about 25 per cent of the cost, he added. Based on current population estimates, full realization of the system would mean an 11 million dollar biennial appropriation from the legislature.

Library Now Has New Film Series

A new service to the people of Warren County has been announced by Mrs. Georgia Coyle, librarian of Warren Public Library. Through the cooperation of Canadian Travel Film Library, the Warren Public Library has arranged to have a number of films available for the use of any organization, or individual wishing to use them.

The films, which will rotate each six weeks, cover a variety of subjects pertaining to Canada. The following films will be available through November: "Coho Salmon on the Fly," which tells of salmon fishing in British Columbia and the flies and tackle to use. This is in color, 16mm and runs for 11 minutes. "Stratford Adventure" shows the creation of the famous Shakespearean Theater in Stratford, Ontario. This is also in color and runs for 40 minutes. "Wildlife in the Rockies" shows the nature life in Banff and Jasper National Parks.

All the films are 16mm and all will be in color. Any, or all of the films may be borrowed for three days, without charge, by anyone in the area. Complete lists and schedules are available at the library. For further information call Warren Public Library 1055.

IN APPRECIATION

OBITUARIES

FUNERAL INFORMATION WILL BE FOUND UNDER ANOTHER HEADING

JOSEPHINE GARBER

Mrs. Josephine Garber, aged 88, died early today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. L. Blair, 311 Water street.

Born in Limestone township November 11, 1869, she was the widow of J. J. Garber, who died in 1935, and had lived in Warren for the past 24 years. Mrs. Garber was a member of First Methodist church, also of its Ruth Circle and WSCS, and had been a member of Warren Grange No. 1025 for over 50 years. Throughout her lifetime, she had been active in church circles and civic affairs in the various communities in which she lived.

Besides Mrs. Blair she leaves three sons and a daughter: Ernest G. and Lewis W. Garber, Warren; Naldo S. Garber, Clarion; and Mrs. C. S. McMarrow, Chambersburg; also seven grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. M. L. Merkle, Tidououte.

Her pastor, Dr. A. C. Schultz, will conduct services in her memory at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, with interment following in Oakland cemetery.

HARRY G. DUGGAN

The Rev. Donald H. Spencer, minister of First Presbyterian church, officiated at 2:00 p. m. Wednesday for the funeral of Harry G. Duggan. Serving as bearers for interment in the Lutheran cemetery at Chambersburg were the following members of Dinsmoor-Schwinn Post 681, Veterans of Foreign Wars: Eric Munson, Leroy Fronberry, Richard English, Leo Schuler, Louis Nobles and August Schultze.

Attending from away were: Mr. and Mrs. James W. Duggan, Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Duggan, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson L. Duggan, Mr. and Mrs. Carleton V. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wight, Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Duggan, Mrs. Rena Smiley, Hubert J. Duggan, Bradford.

MRS. C. F. HORNSTROM

Mrs. Matilda Hornstrom, wife of Charles F. Hornstrom of 102 Dartmouth street, died at Warren General Hospital at 12:35 a. m. today at the age of 72 years.

Mrs. Hornstrom was born in Glade township March 23, 1886, and had been a lifelong resident of the community. She was a member of Grace Methodist church, its Goodwill-Gleaners Class, and the Ora Rooper Circle of WSCS; also of the Protected Home Circle, Women's Benefit Association, Women's Christian Temperance Union, and Order of Amaranth.

Besides her husband, she leaves a brother, William Brenton of Warren.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete and will be announced tomorrow.

H. E. GUSTAFSON

SHEFFIELD — The funeral of Herbert E. Gustafson, 307 Horton avenue, was held at 2:00 p. m. Monday, conducted by his pastor, the Rev. Carl F. Eliason, of Bethany Lutheran church. Many beautiful flowers, as well as the large number of friends who called to pay respects and the many officials of the Penn Furnace and Iron Company in attendance, expressed the high esteem in which Mr. Gustafson was held. Serving as bearers for interment in the local cemetery were:

Everett Bills, Burdette Weiser, Clyde Peterson, Laurence Stoltz, Forrest Feidler and Emmett Henry. Attending from away were: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Tripp, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson, Mrs. Sadie Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Conti, Matthew Morelli, Mrs. Grace Spitzer and Mrs. Helen Peterson, Jamestown; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Gustafson, Parma, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gustafson, Columbus, O.; Mrs. and Mrs. Gust Anderson, Mrs. Agnes Anderson, Ludlow; Mrs. Ora Johnson, Mrs. Ellen Youngberg, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Gust Carlson, Ernest Carlson, Warren.

AYNER L. OLSON

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p. m. Wednesday for Ayner Laurence Olson, 17 Glade avenue, who died Sunday. The Rev. Ralph Findley, of Grace Methodist church, officiated for the rites and the following served as bearers for interment in Warren County Memorial Park at Starbrick: Donald, John, Richard and Charles Sharp, Larry Barthe and John Putnam. Named as honorary bearers were Ross Akler, Allison Knopf, Raymond Haag, David Levine, Atwood Irum and Ray D. Cole.

The following attended from away: Mrs. Jennie Olson Lundgren, Mrs. R. N. Lindbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Abramson, Mrs. Ellen Peterson, Mrs. Inez Steelman, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mrs. Mildred Paulson, Greenhurst, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. John August Anderson, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Anderson, Westville; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Staff, Orchard Park, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Abramson, Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson, Sheffield; Mrs. Arlene Kennard, Mrs. Betty Tilley, Ellwood City.

MRS. EDWARD SCHROEDER

Funeral services in memory of Mrs. Bertha Anderson Schroeder, wife of Edward Schroeder of Babylon, N. Y. and former Warren resident, were held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Long Island community. The Rev. A. A. Leininger, minister of First Presbyterian church of Babylon, officiated and Charles W. Johnson of Brooklyn, a nephew of Mrs. Schroeder, sang "Under His Wings" and "Security." Interment was made at 10:00 a. m. Wednesday in Oakwood cemetery at Bay Shore, Long Island.

Among those attending the rites were: Mrs. Mildred Garrison, Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Larson, Springfield, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Nils W. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Sven Soderstrom, Brooklyn; Mrs. Louise Sheiton, Lynbrook, N. Y.

GEORGE HARROFF

Word has been received here that George Harroff, at one time a resident of Tidououte, died at the Methodist Home in Meadville Tuesday morning. He was born in Ellsworth township, Mahoning county, Ohio, on February 14, 1868, and is survived by his wife, Lillian, also a resident at the home; and a step-son, Otto Faden of North Warren.

Services in his memory will be held in Meadville at 1:30 p. m. Friday, conducted by the Rev. George Braun, superintendent of the Meadville Home. Interment will follow in Warren County Memorial Park at Starbrick, with a committal service about 3:30 p. m.

WIN F. BELL

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in Manor Methodist church near Shippensburg for Win F. Bell, of that place, who died Wednesday morning in Warren General Hospital following a three weeks' illness. The body will lie in state at the church from 12:00 noon, until 2:00 p. m.

Mr. Bell was a brother of Mrs. Kathryn Kiser, 111 Park avenue, Warren, and is also survived by three children, 16 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren. His wife preceded him in death many years ago.

Funerals

JOSEPHINE B. GARBER—Friends will be received at the Peterson Funeral Home at the usual calling hours, starting at 2:00 p. m. Friday, and services will be held there at 2:30 p. m. Saturday. Dr. A. C. Schultz, of First Methodist church, will officiate and interment will follow in Oakland cemetery.

MRS. C. F. HORNSTROM—Friends will be received at the Peterson Funeral Home at the usual calling hours, starting at 2:00 p. m. Friday. Arrangements for services are incomplete and will be announced later.

Burgoo is a thick gruel or porridge, but the word usually is used to describe a thick soup of meat and vegetables.

JC Chapter at Sugar Grove Receives Charter

SUGAR GROVE—The new Junior Chamber of Commerce here received its charter at a banquet held in the Presbyterian church Saturday evening, when Try Company served 63 members and guests.

Walter Sweeney served as master of ceremonies, with the Rev. James M. Fisher, Presbyterian minister, giving the invocation.

Orrie Pudder, Jr., brought greetings and Mr. Sweeney introduced the speaker, Morgan Doughton of Allentown, who is president of the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce and presented the charter. Mr. Sweeney then introduced other guests.

The board of directors of the new organization is comprised of Mr. Pudder, president; Harold F. Spink, vice president; Robert J. Warner, secretary; Walter L. Hodges, treasurer; Ray D. Sanders, Marion G. Abbott, Billy J. Wagner, Harold F. Spink.

Serving as committee for the charter banquet were Walter E. Abbott, James W. Mesler, Walter Hodges, Mr. Pudder and Mr. Spink.

U. S. Jets

said "some MIGs were shot down. We don't know how many."

The government-owned Central Daily News later issued an extra edition claiming five MIGs were shot down in today's fight.

The Nationalist spokesman said the air battle took place as a Nationalist convoy was returning to base from delivering supplies to besieged Quemoy. Sabre Jets swooped down on four Communist torpedo boats which were attacking the ship convoy, and possibly one torpedo boat was sunk.

So far the Chinese Communists have made no attempt to attack Nationalist C46 cargo planes parachuting supplies to Little Quemoy Island. Two more drops were made without incident Wednesday, the Nationalist Defense Ministry said.

American fighters flew high over the Formosa Strait off Little Quemoy while the drops were made, ready to swoop down on any Communist MIG fighters that might attack the cargo planes, a U.S. spokesman said.

The U.S. jets did not fly directly over the outpost islands in order to "avoid provocative action," the spokesman added.

He called the American planes far superior to the MIGs which Red China has concentrated on mainland airfields in the Quemoy area. The Nationalist air force presently has available for combat only U.S. planes of older types than the MIGs.

However, Nationalist pilots are now training in six supersonic F100F Super Sabre Jet fighters, AFOP correspondent James Cary reported from an air base in southern Formosa. The first group of pilots is expected to be checked out in the planes within six weeks and then will begin training a full squadron of F100 pilots.

The date when the nationalists will have a full wing of Super Sabres is a guarded secret but conversion to the newer aircraft is on a rush basis, Cary reported. Lt. Col. James Hallmark of Lorraine, Tex., commands the American instructors at the base.

The Communists continued their bombardment of the Quemoy islands which has hampered Nationalist efforts to supply them by sea. In order to supplement the sea route, a massive air drop on big Quemoy is expected by many observers in Taipei.

Two more Nationalist LSTs reached Quemoy at noon, unloading their supplies and withdrew safely, the Defense Ministry said.

Blaze Interrupts Firemen's Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the North Warren Volunteer Fire Department was interrupted last evening by a fire call, when a high tension wire on North State street came down, and firemen stood by while a Peneclec crew made repairs.

Donald Sharp, president, was in charge of the session which considered among other things, purchase of a new ambulance. Three out-of-town ambulance representatives were in attendance.

Mention was made of a county firemen's meeting to be held tonight at Star Brick.

Propaganda—The United States hopes the Assembly will consider the possibility of establishing a monitoring system to report on inflammatory broadcasts in the Middle East. This was one of President Eisenhower's proposals placed before the recent emergency session of the Assembly, but not acted upon.

Peace Force—This was another Eisenhower proposal, but Dulles spelled it out more in detail. He suggested that the force would observe and patrol, but would not be equipped for combat. Its personnel would come from small countries and it would be directed by a small planning staff within the U.N. secretariat.

Dulles' speech was unusually mild.

He concluded, however, by calling the Soviet Union and some other unidentified countries to task for flouting U.N. decisions and thus trying to set up double standards in the organization—one for themselves and one for others.

Even before the Dulles speech was read Peiping rejected any idea of an immediate cease-fire in the Formosa straits.

Peiping radio broadcast an article from the official Peiping People's Daily charging that negotiations to end the Quemoy shooting, now underway between the U.S. and Red China ambassadors in Warsaw, were a plot to save the Nationalist-held offshore islands from capture by Red troops.

The United States was understood to feel that the U.N. should take up the Formosa crisis if the talks fail.

Dulles, whose general policy address shares top billing with a speech by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, was slated to spell out how the United States stands on the Far East and other key issues.

The United States and the Soviet Union are expected to cross swords when the Assembly's 21-nation Steering Committee debates whether to recommend assembly consideration on seating Red China. The question got bogged down in discussion of other items Wednesday and it was postponed for 24 hours.

The committee overrode the usual Communist opposition and recommended 13-3, with neutralist Ceylon and Indonesia abstaining, to put discussion of repression in Hungary on the agenda.

Traditional French opposition to U.N. discussion of the Algerian rebellion, which France considers an internal affair, was overridden and the Algerian demand for independence was recommended for the agenda. France announced it will not take part in the discussion.

In all, 64 items were listed for the agenda. Among those recommended by general consent included South Africa's racial policies, international cooperation in outer space, ending nuclear weapons tests and the violence in Cyprus.

"President of what?"

"Of the United States."

"Oh my Lord!" said Mrs. Medeiros.

Though she had seen several black limousines and a police escort, she had not guessed her customer was President Eisenhower.

The President drove off with two pumpkins, several baskets of fruit and five or six onions.

And Mrs. Medeiros?

"Believe me," she said later, "if there had been a hole around I would have jumped into it."

JOBLESS PAY RULING

HARRISBURG (AP)—A ruling by the State Unemployment Compensation Board made some 350 workers of the Hershey Estates eligible today for jobless benefits. But management said the decision would be appealed.

The board, in its decision Wednesday, ruled that a labor dispute at Hershey Estates Enterprises a year ago was a lockout and that more than 350 workers were entitled to unemployment compensation of about $30, weekly, for three or four weeks.

Furniture Store Has Unusual Promotion

An unusual sales promotion is being conducted today and tomorrow in front of Bartsch Furniture on the bridge on Warren's East Side.

A direct-from-the-truck sale will be held on mattresses and living room suites. Mattresses are being sold at reduced prices—directly from the truck to you!

Such famous names as Nelson Silver Cross Oetho-Best, Nelsonrest Innerspring mattress and Nelson Duraflex innersprings, all with durable latex foam rubber.

A van load of New York showroom samples of living room suites was purchased directly by Bartsch, including suites and sectional sofas—both early American and modern styles.

Sale times are 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. today and Friday.

Given Prison Sentence For Robbery-Beating

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A $25 robbery-beating of a 56-year-old Twin Rocks miner last Aug. 31 has resulted in 7-to-20 year prison terms for two Cambria County men.

Roy L. Brown, 24, of Nanty Glo R.D., and Thomas L. Adams, 30, of Twin Rocks, drew the sentences Wednesday after pleading guilty to beating and robbing Manuel Doliveira near Vintondale. Doliveira is in Johnstown Memorial Hospital with jaw and skull fractures.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK (AP)—Motors shares rose in a mixed stock market early today. Trading was fairly active.

Signing of a labor pact between Ford and the United Auto Workers averted fear of a crippling strike and bolstered automotive stocks.

Ford rose about a point in brisk dealings. Chrysler, General Motors and American Motors trended upward slightly.

Gains and losses of fractions to a point prevailed among key stocks throughout the list.

Prospects for Penn State Reviewed by Sports Writer

(Sports Editor's Note—The following sports column was written for The Associated Press by Ron Field, sports editor of Centre Daily Times, State College.)

By RON FIELD
Sports Editor Centre Daily Times
STATE COLLEGE (AP)—The try has often been "since Pennsylvania produces some of the nation's best football players, why does the state lose so many to colleges in other states?"

If you've ever followed Penn State football much, you might wonder what all the fuss is about. For the past 71 years, with the possible exception of a year or two during the second World War, the state has supplied many Lion teams with virtually all of its talent to win most of its football games.

Under the guidance of present coach Charles A. (Rip) Engle, Penn State has won more than two-thirds of its games over the past eight years.

As the tempo of fall picks up and the leaves change colors in the mountains of this central Pennsylvania community, football fever spreads swiftly. The Lions open at Nebraska Saturday.

Penn State is ranked with the best of 'em again, falling somewhere around third in the East. It's practically a traditional rating. And Pennsylvanians comprise 83 per cent of the playing roster, 33 of 39.

Many of them shunned glamorous offers from out of state institutions to enroll at Penn State.

It could be because the pressure is bound to be less at State than at another school. It might be because State offers some special educational advantages lacking elsewhere. And it might be simple loyalty to one's home state and a desire to play in stadiums filled with one's neighbors.

Whatever the reasons, the fact is Pennsylvania gives the university traditionally its teams. Much of the credit belongs to the state's fine high school athletic programs.

Where, for instance, would Penn State's highly-rated quarterback corps be without high school football in the Pittsburgh district? Senior Al Jacks, who heads a corps of four top signal-callers, hails from Pittsburgh as does veteran Bob Scrabis. Dick Hoak played high school ball at Jeanette.

Another quarterback, perhaps State's most crowd-pleasing performer this year, is ramblin' Richie Lucas, a junior with the finesse of a veteran and a daring runner from his quarterback slot.

Where's Richie from? Well, not Pittsburgh this time. He's from Glassport, another Pennsylvania community. Coach Engle respects for its ability to produce college-caliber football players.

Eddie Cave, a halfback with considerable promise and ability, was recently put out of action for the season by a knee injury slowing down a rocketing career. He's from Pittsburgh, too.

While the backfield seems to favor Pittsburgh talent, along the line eastern and northern Pennsylvania areas dominate.

Center and captain Steve Garban is from Grindstone, and Dag Vogelsong, playing behind the captain, is from Upper Darby. Wayne Bertfield played high school football at Williamsport.

Moving west, Latrobe has been proud of Andy Stynchula, voted most-improved lineman by the Penn State staff after spring practice this year.

Bill Wehmer, back from his third year of varsity competition, is a versatile Lion from Turtle Creek. He moved in from tackle to take over a new position—guard—for the first time. Engle figures he's so sound fundamentally in football knowledge that he should be able to pick up the new post easily.

You can go on and on naming Pennsylvania football talent on this year's Penn State squad. You could dip back into the past and come up with an even longer list.

Four Penn State All-Americans are Keystone State natives. Charles (Gang) Way is from Downingtown and made All America in 1950. Joe Bedenk, who coaches baseball at Penn State, made it in 1923. He's from Williamsport.

New Manager of Cardinals To Be Revealed Later

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals fired Manager Fred Hutchinson Wednesday but won't name his successor until the end of the season.

The replacement undoubtedly will be former Cardinal Solly Hemus, known to be the favorite of owner August A. Busch.

In announcing that Hutchinson was out, General Manager Bing Devine said the Cardinals would announce a new manager after the end of the season and before the World Series.

With Hutchinson went his three coaches, Stan Hack, Terry Moore and Al Hollingsworth. Hack agreed to manage the Redbirds until the end of the season. Then he's on his way out of the Cardinals organization, as is Moore. Hollingsworth might be offered another job in the system.

The only stumbling block in the way of Hemus' selection appeared to be terms the Philadelphia Phils might want for him. At second base for the Phils, he has been one of the few live wires on that team.

Eddie Stanky, now a coach with the Cleveland Indians, will be with the Cardinals next year. He'll act as a "baseball brain," with a final say on trades, bonus players and rookies.

Favored for a pitching coach is Eddie Lopat. Next in line is Sal Maglie. The Cardinals would have to obtain a release of Lopat from the New York Yankees, whose Richmond farm he manages. If he should turn down the job, Maglie can switch from Cardinal player to Cardinal coach.

Hutchinson won't be out of a job very long if he doesn't want to be. Wednesday night he attended the Cardinals game against the Milwaukee Braves, which the Cards won 5-3, with Dewey Soriano, general manager of the Seattle club.

Soriano, a long-time friend of Hutchinson's, said, "I've made Hutch such a good offer he'll have a hard time turning it down."

Co. Motor Club Board Discusses Sugar Run Lights

Need for additional help in the office due to the rapid growth of membership and incidental increase in work for the force was one of the main subjects for discussion at the September meeting of the board of governors of the Warren County Motor Club held last evening at the Blue & White Restaurant. As a result of the reports submitted it was unanimously decided to employ Donald E. Schuler, North Warren, as assistant to Office Manager Mary E. Corah, effective immediately.

Since Mr. Schuler was serving his second term as president of the club, he immediately submitted his resignation to that office. An election was held and L. O. Eisenhauer, Sheffield, who was a vice president, was elected to the office of President and Neil Anderson was chosen to fill the office.

In opening the meeting Mr.

Schuler extended a welcome to newly-elected directors, E. F. Blair, Sheffield, Palmer Davis, Warren, and Gordon Clark, Youngsville.

Minutes of the June meeting were read and approved, along with bills accumulated since the last session.

The club discussed at length the need for blinker lights at the railroad crossing in Kinzua township, familiarly known as Sugar Run, and it was decided that the Club would renew efforts through the Highway Department and possibly the Pennsylvania Railroad to have such warning signals installed.

There were eighteen members in attendance from Warren, Sheffield, Akeley, North Warren, Kinzua and Youngsville.

Regret was expressed over the illness of Mrs. Corah, after a report was received that it is expected she will be back in the office within a week or two.

First American military fort in what today is New Mexico was Fort Marcy, a diamond-shaped fortress erected in 1846 on a hill overlooking Santa Fe.

DRIVE CAREFULLY!

Performing under the direction of James Schott, and with Lester Howe as president, members of the Youngsville Volunteer Fire Department Band have concluded a very successful summer season that has included first place wins at Sherman, Falconer and Findlay Lake, N. Y., Columbus, Johnsonburg and Titusville; seconds at Celoron and Jamestown, N. Y., North East and Kane; and thirds at St. Marys and Cambridge Springs.

High School Notes

A meeting of the Pep Club will be held immediately after school on Friday, September 19, in the auditorium. Any students who are interested are invited to attend this meeting.

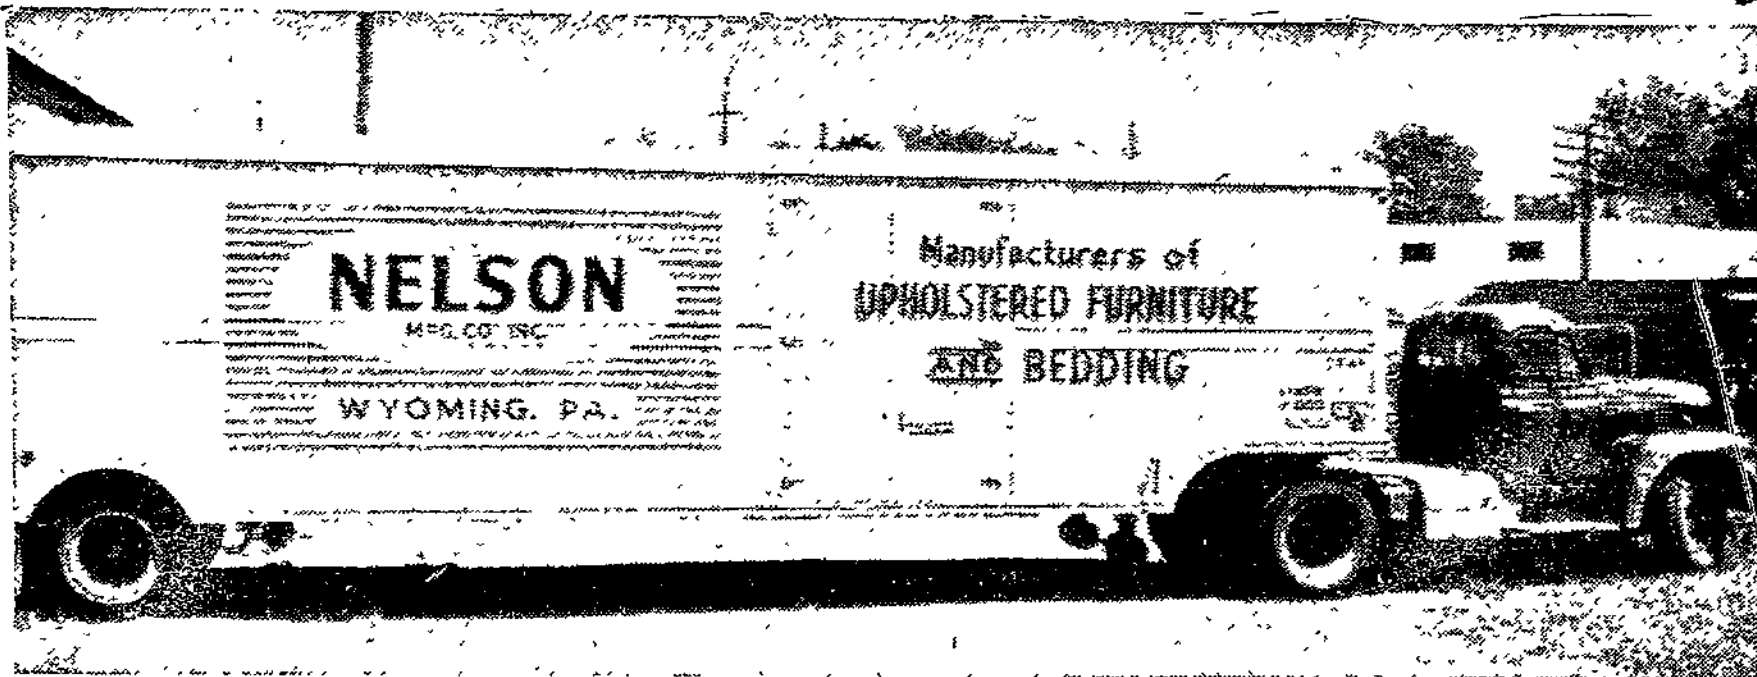

Dragon football team photos are on sale and may be purchased from Denny Bonavita or Bill Lombard. They are available in five styles or a group picture of the entire Varsity, the starting eleven and also three sizes of single ones.

The results of the sports managers election at the G.A.A. yesterday were such that a second ballot is necessary to select the sports managers. Voting will take place today and tomorrow in the gym office.

Franklin Invades Warren in One of Couple Section II Games in Area This Weekend

Rain has played havoc with football coaches this week and he renewed flu threat, which, incidentally, has already invaded section II clubs, is giving the mentors plenty of worries as they prepare to launch another successful season. League competition is off and running as Warren slashed Corry 14-0 Saturday and Oil City rallied over Titusville with a 13-7 score Friday night.

Only two Section II games are slated for this weekend. Franklin invading Warren and Oil City traveling to Corry. Other Conference teams playing, but not in Section II battles, are Meadville, facing Neshannock Twp., and Titusville hosting Grove City.

On the local grid field, Dragons are jubilant over their impressive defeat of the Beavers, and have received several inspiring comments on their showing from area coaches who witnessed the game. Dragon head, Ralph Veights, who reports that his new prospect for the Dragon squad in about 16 years isn't giving him so much trouble nights, said that the present Franklin eleven is the "best I've seen in the five years I've been here." Veights noted that their back, Conrad, "impressed me. He can run." The Knights showed very good against Hickory last Friday, downing them 33-0.

A good game all the way around is expected from these two teams. "If they (Dragons) play like they did Saturday, we'll be alright," prophesied the coach.

When time permitted first of week, the backfield was drilled in maneuvers and speed. Big three boys in backfield last week were Bob Haslet, Dick Terry and Lou Mascaro. The three backs are expected to wage another war against Franklin.

Jim Wick, out with a broken nose received in a practice session, may do some limited ball running Saturday, according to Veights.

"Franklin can't be taken too lightly," Veights warned. "They have fine backs and two good ends. We'll have to stop their passing because they're noted for that." Dragon head has plans of a running attack, "with a little more passing."

Franklin has always been one of the better teams in Section II and has already made a strong bid for the position again this year.

Jim McCullough, Knight coach, believes that the defensive club will win the game for either team. Jim noted that Warren had a strong offensive backfield, "backed by Mascaro, of course."

Twelve lettermen compose the Franklin squad. As far as injuries go this season, the Knights have suffered no great loss. As a matter of fact, the only injury bothering a player is one sustained last season.

Defensively, McCullough runs a 4 and 7 lineup (seniors and juniors, respectively), and 4 seniors, 6 juniors offensively.

Probable starting lineups:
Warren
LE—White-Larson
LT—Sorenson
LG—McCool-McKelvey
C—Mervine
RG—Miller
RT—Olson
RE—Brumagim
QB—Mascaro
LB—Haslet

Others will be gunning for a win over Corry in hopes of maintaining their first place tie with Warren. Lou Hanna predicted his charges for Section II cellar, and if they're handed

BIGGEST HELPING HAND

Fan support of the game last week was probably the biggest helping hand that the Dragon gridders needed. Their morale and spirit has been pushed "sky high" and their desire to win is overwhelming. Season tickets and singles for Saturday's contest will be sold in Warren's business section again Friday night by WHS cheerleaders for convenience of shopping fans. Girls will be stationed at Pennneys and Metzger-Wrights.

Notre Dame and Navy Stars Are On Injured List

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

This is D-Day minus two for Saturday's football warriors who will establish a bridgehead on the 1958 college football season.

But time is hanging a bit heavy for Coaches Eddie Ertlitz of Navy and Notre Dame's Terry Brennan, even though their D-Day isn't until Sept. 27.

Both have potential All-Americans on the injury list that may sideline them for the opening games or even longer.

Ertlitz is concerned about Bob Reitsnyder, a 1957 All-America tackle, and one of four starters left from Navy's Cotton Bowl champions. The 234-pound senior pulled a calf muscle that will hospitalize him two weeks, with his status in the William & Mary opener dubious.

The injury occurred 10 days ago in a scrimmage but he did not go to the hospital until this week.

Nick Pietrosante, Notre Dame's bustling fullback, put a furrow in Brennan's brow today. Pietrosante sprained a toe that makes him a doubtful starter when the Irish open against Indiana.

Brennan has slated Ron Toth to do the offensive fullbacking and defensive linebacking in Nick's place, while quarterback Bob Williams, also a semi-invalid this fall, will handle the punting. Pietrosante led all Notre Dame ball carriers with a 5-yard per carry average in 1957, and had a 39.6 punting average until an injury in the Iowa game sidelined him.

Elsewhere, the theme is "If you're not ready now then you won't make it by Saturday" as Saturday's participants went through their final day of polishing.

TRACEY WITH STEELERS

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Tom Tracey, obtained by the Pittsburgh Steelers from the Detroit Lions last week, will start at halfback against the Los Angeles Rams on Sunday in the Steelers' final exhibition game.

Coach Buddy Parker also indicated that rookie back Fay Mitchell of Tennessee A. & M. and halfback Billy Reynolds, obtained from Cleveland also will see considerable action.

Swami Hoople Is Back With An Unbalanced Line; Sees Warren Win Over Franklin

The Original Mental Block

EGAD! At the start of another grid season, my zillions of readers will see why Willie Heston, Ted Coy and others I coached always seemed at their zenith on opening day.

Hak-kaff—a Hoople organizes quickly, then thrusts at the opposition immediately. This was the case when I first sprung my unbalanced line.

Resuming the role of America's greatest football prognosticator, my genius at rapid giving two points for a rush after touchdown, does not throw us off track. Heh-heh. A Hoople always is ready for anything.

So as you read on with the forecast, bear these facts in mind, and do not be dismayed when you find that the College of the Pacific will inundate California by three touchdowns! And that South Carolina will astound Duke—and those uninformed people who do not read this—by two touchdowns. And to have the most awesome news for last—sounds!—Kansas will score two points after a touchdown and topple mighty Texas Christian by 15-14!

In his place, Mr. Gaspar Swaymhoover, the famed wage-hour law expert, has been assigned heavier duties. He uses the canceled check system.

Prof. Quentin Zlobotny, the noted fourth dimension scientist, aided us at the start of this work. But in attempting to establish a toll booth at the headwaters of the St. Lawrence Seaway he has been delayed 30 days. I promptly placed Mr. Red Board Daly on my staff. Warren-Franklin Rated as One of Big Games on Tap

By FRED WALTERS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Four big games feature the second weekend of activity on Pennsylvania high school gridirons this week as most of the schools join in the annual scramble inaugurated last weekend.

The game of the week shapes up as the nonleague clash between strong Mount Lebanon of the WPIAL and Westinghouse, perennial Pittsburgh city champions.

Other top games on the card send Mount Carmel against Tamqua in a test of two outstanding contenders for the Eastern Penn Southern Division championship; Franklin at Warren for a Dist. 10 Sect. II showdown; and Altoona at Windber in a mountain classic.

The Westinghouse-Mount Lebanon affair Friday at this early stage might be billed as a Western Pennsylvania championship game: The best of the WPIAL against the best in Pittsburgh.

Mount Lebanon will be the host. Favored Mount Lebanon opened its season with a 64-0 thrashing of Homestead, one of three teams it lost to last year. Coached by Ralph Fite, star guard at Pitt in the late '30s, the home team has standout ends Lee Wells and Bud Vogel and fullback Denny Phillips to heckle the opposition.

The Franklin-Warren outcome Saturday will considerably narrow the field in the Sect. II title race. Warren settled Corry's prospects last Saturday 13-0 while Franklin warmed up over a nonconference victory over Hickory 33-0. Franklin's Knights are the dark horse entry in Sect. II with most of last year's young team that provided plenty of thrills back for another season. Warren lost all of its games last year, but has Lou Mascaro, quarterback, returning to head an older, wiser and tougher squad.

Altoona, which plays in the WPIAL, will be out after its fourth straight against Windber Saturday at Windber in a series that goes back to 1917. But Windber holds the edge in the series, 16 wins to 13 losses and three ties. The Mountain Lions routed DuBois, a Western Conference

Jordan Receives A Split Decision In Ortega Fight

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Lightweight Don Jordan, punching precisely and accurately, took the shortest route to an upset, 10-round split decision over Gaspar Ortega Wednesday night.

Jordan weighed 141½, Ortega 145½.

Jordan, ranked sixth among lightweights by the National Boxing Assn., carried the fight to Ortega in the first round, but after that mainly was content to counterpunch. The fight was televised nationally (ABC).

There were no knockdowns. In the fourth, Jordan landed a low blow Ortega's knee bent nearly to the canvas, but he didn't go down.

Jordan had a 57-53 edge on The Associated Press card.

team 35-6 in its season opener; Windber, of the Western Conference, walloped Monessen, of the WPIAL 40-14.

College Football Fires Open Round of Season Saturday; S. Cal. Oregon Meet Friday

By HARRY GRAYSON
Pre-season drudgery and drills out of the way, college football fires the opening round of another season Saturday.

Every football campaign is exciting and this one could be controversial. Liberalized substitution practically returns the platoons. The two-point conversion will have Old Blues second guessing many a coach. And the character builders are waiting to see how officials interpret one-arm blocking.

All of the big conferences do not start butting heads for another week when major powers collide, but there is sufficient competition in the early skirmishes to give you a rough idea of what is to come.

This fall's kickoff furnishes additional evidence that Los Angeles is the new fantastic sports capital of the world. Oregon State tackles Southern California in the mammoth Coliseum Friday night. Pittsburgh Steelers scramble in an exhibition game the next day. All three productions will play to 50,000 or more. It was the football gold that took the base-

Northern Area & Sheffield in the Arena Saturday

"Warren County Class B League" opens Saturday as one of the traditional rival games between Youngsville-Northern Area-Sheffield schools will be played at Sheffield, Wolverines hosting Northern Area Knights. Yearly the three squads play in their own "private league." Actually, Youngsville is independent, Northern Area is in a New York State Conference—Northwestern, and Sheffield holds a position in Upper Allegheny Valley League.

Saturday's encounter should be a good game all the way around. Last year, Sheffield downed the Knights 26-13.

NA is still a young club, beginning football play in 1950. Their first year games were not scheduled. "The boys have a lot of spirit," Coach Norge Luvison happily noted. "They're young and they want to produce—they know they have to. The coaches have enjoyed working with them. We expect them to improve as the season rolls along."

Although rain has dampened efforts for all-out drills and scrimmages, both squads have completed some work in the rain.

Sheffield's star center, Denny Danielson, will be out of action Saturday, suffering from a leg infection. Inserted in that spot will be sophomore Denny Anderson.

Two ankle injuries plague Knight ends. Marvin Work is out with a sprained ankle received in an intersquad game with Falconer last Saturday. Fred Brasington, left end, is nursing a bruised ankle received still earlier in the season.

"Norge" is confronted with a light line, where a little more speed is needed. Two sophomores, Allen Ludwick and Dennis Owens, are on the line.

As for Saturday, probable starters are:

Eagles Invade Saegertown for Class B Game

Recovering from a 19-12 lashing at the hands of Lawrence Park last weekend, independent Youngsville Eagles will invade Saegertown of Crawford County Class B League Friday evening. Saegertown tied with Mercer last week in their opener, 7-7.

Eagles will be just about in full strength for their opponent. Only one removal was made from the starters tomorrow night. Left end Frank Lyszcz has been bothered considerably with an old knee injury and will be replaced by George Loomis. George will have to play both defensively and offensively.

Fullback Joe Inter will see limited action. Wednesday was the first time he came out for practice since the Park game, where his ankle was trampled on.

Coach Joe Frellick calls the Saegertown squad one with a "tremendous line and a good running back. It is one of the outstanding veteran ball clubs."

Saegertown eleven's mentor, Merle Darkangleo, has given benefit of the doubt to Youngsville, with their "size and past record." Darkangleo said the Eagles always outweigh his players "by at least 15 to 20 pounds."

Seven lettermen are being used by Merle in filling slots. He had six holes beginning of season vacant. Recalling last week's game, Merle said, "I think we didn't play our best ball game. We are a much better club. Our timing was off last week." Interspersed with the rain this week, Darkangleo has put his charges through light practice sessions and drills and working on fundamentals. "Youngsville will be tougher than Mercer."

This game will be one of good rivalry, and Merle is looking for tough competition from Youngsville. "We like to play tough competition," he quickly noted. In all, 28 boys compose Saegertown's squad.

Formation Split Is Expected To Give Pitt Punch

By GEORGE ESPER
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Coach Johnny Michelosen's decision to open up his split T formation may give the University of Pittsburgh football team something it obviously lacked last year—a scoring punch.

The Panthers will use an open offense geared for more scoring with plays from the T-formation with a split end and a halfback flanker. In some coaching circles, it is known as a wing-T.

"For example," Coach Johnny Michelosen explained, "we'll split our right end 10 yards and send a halfback to the opposite side. We're opening up a little more. We hope to stabilize the defense to a certain extent, that is to force it into a definite coverage and defensive alignment."

"If we can stabilize the defense by opening up our offense, we can eliminate to an extent the changing of defenses just prior to the snap of the ball and the loading up of the line."

"In the straight-T formation in some instances, the defense will move up and you're running against practically a nine-man line."

The Panthers have used the winged-T for the last three years, but infrequently.

"We didn't exploit it enough," Michelosen said. "I never felt the boys had enough confidence to use it extensively."

"But this year's different. We have two experienced quarterbacks who are fairly good passers and an overall veteran team."

The quarterbacks are Bill Kaliden, a senior from Homestead, Pa., and Ivan Tonic, a junior from Midland, Pa.

Michelosen has indicated he'll start Tonic against UCLA at Los Angeles Saturday.

Both Kaliden and Tonic will see plenty of action this season if last year is any indication. Kaliden played 238 minutes and Tonic 264 as the Panthers won 4 and lost 6.

Pep Anxious for Another Crack At Championship

BOSTON (AP)—The old Will o' the Wisp is a hungry fighter as he reaches the crossroads of an 18-year pro career. And it isn't just for money.

Wee Willie Pep, the two-time former featherweight champion from Hartford, Conn., wants another shot at the title.

One of the world's busiest boxers, Willie gets a chance to move into the top contender's spot Saturday night when he meets Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria in a non-title 10-rounder at the Boston Garden.

"This is the big one—the others don't count now," Pep said. "Bassey is good, a tough, strong kid. But I'm ready. I've never worked harder. I'm going to win in 10. I've just got to."

Willie figures a victory over Bassey will force the champion into a title showdown.

Detroit Tigers Are Engaged In Usual Year-End Sprint

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit is third in American League standings, but they're still the tail-end Tigers, waiting until the pennant is gone before making a season-end sprint for a share of the World Series loot.

It's an old habit with the Tigers. And it has cost two managers—Bucky Harris and Jack Tighe—their jobs.

In 1956, the Tigers roared through the last weeks and finished fifth.

The Tigers finished fourth in 1957, but they had to win on the final day to do it.

When their 1958 start indicated something worse, Tighe was ousted and Bill Norman took over an eighth-place club June 10.

The Tigers moved into third last

Weather Outlook for Cup Race Unfavorable

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — Fog and rain threatened today to spoil Columbia's final tuneups for defense of the Americas Cup against Great Britain's drydocked Scythe.

A drizzling rain interfered with a planned full-scale dress rehearsal for the U. S. Wednesday. More of the bad weather was expected today.

There was no report from the Weather Bureau on probable weather Saturday when Columbia and Scythe meet in the first race of their best-of-seven series.

Cardinals Make Life Just Little Tough for the Braves

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals, without a manager and with only a slim hope for a fourth place finish, are back at the old stand — making life a bit tougher than it should be for the Milwaukee Braves.

It was in 1956 that the Cardinals, settled in fourth, knocked the Braves out of the National League pennant. Last season, when the Braves thought they had it all locked up, they had to put on another drive to knock off the second place Cardinals, who had closed within two games.

Wednesday night, hours after Fred Hutchinson was fired officially as field boss, the Cards took the Braves 5-3, knocking off 20-game winner Warren Spahn, a longtime nemesis, to boot. That delayed the Braves' run to a second consecutive flag. Their magic number still is three over second place Pittsburgh.

The Chicago Cubs tied Los Angeles for sixth by beating Philadelphia 6-2 in the only other NL game scheduled. It was held to seven innings by rain.

She used to have her poems published regularly in books. "There are no takers for them any more," she says. "It was a kind of sabotage. There were strange accidents, delays, constant friction. Nothing you could put your finger on. But it succeeded in killing the magazines."

Women stopped coming to the employment agency and cafeteria. "They spread rumors that I had had a nervous breakdown and was completely deranged. My husband secretly put me in a hospital and had five doctors examine me to disprove it," she said.

"Then they tried to cause trouble in my family. They said that when I was in America there were other men, and that my husband was going around with other women—all absolute lies."

She said her house is constantly watched. Recently, she was refused a passport to attend an international woman's conference in India. Officials gave her no reason for the refusal.

What now? "I will go on fighting," she said. "Many are suffering under Nasser but they are afraid to speak. I am not. I am not afraid to go to prison. In fact that would be better. It would be in the open then—to this invisible campaign."

"HELP HAS COME"

Hal Boyle Comment

By RELMAN MORIN

Associated Press Staff Writer
There are no signs in Egypt of any organized opposition to President Gamal Abdel Nasser. Indeed, few Egyptians speak out against him in private conversation. But one—a strikingly beautiful woman—has been at war with him, openly, for more than five years.

She is Mme Dora Shafik, poetess, erstwhile magazine publisher, and a tireless crusader for women's rights in the Moslem world. It is not alone on feminist grounds, however, that she battles Nasser.

She has publicly accused him of depriving Egyptians of their liberties and shackling them with a new kind of colonization.

Mme. Shafik is tall, dark, with flashing black eyes. She is married to a Cairo lawyer. They have two teen-age daughters.

When Nasser promulgated the Egyptian constitution in 1956, she says, Cairo reporters telephoned and asked her to comment on it.

"I said no one who believes in liberty could accept it," she says. "This is not freedom. This is a new kind of colonization for the Egyptian people."

"Legally, we are not permitted to discuss the revolution, nor to criticize the constitution. The reporters asked if they could quote me. I told them they could."

The result, she says, has been a slow, shadowy, indirect form of reprisal.

At that time, she was publishing four magazines for women. Only one dealt with political questions. All four are gone now.

She also ran an employment agency for women, and a kind of cafeteria where destitute women would buy food for their families. These, too, are out of existence.
